Robert E. Lee, Town Manager's Report to Town Council

Town Council Meeting June 15, 2015

Robertson Airport Grants

- Two projects are being pursued at the Airport. The first is to perform an "Environmental Assessment and Obstruction Analysis" to determine if there are any trees/obstructions that are in the airspace near the Airport. The estimated cost of the analysis is $206,800. The FAA will pay for 90% of the project cost or $186,120. The State will pay for 7.5% of the project or $15,510 and the Airport Fund will pay for 2.5% of the project or $5,170. The Analysis is expected to take approximately 12 months.
- Once the obstructions are identified, the Town will apply for another grant to take the necessary steps to remove and/or modify them.
- The second project is an "Airport Pavement Management Study". This study is required by the FAA to determine the condition of the existing pavement at the airport. This is required before the Town can apply for grants to repave the taxiway and apron areas at the Airport.
- The estimated cost of the Study is $101,500. The FAA will pay for 90% of the Study or $91,350. The State will pay for 7.5% of the Study or $7,612.50. The Airport Fund will pay for 2.5% of the Study or $2,537.50. This Analysis is also expected to take around 12 months.
- There are sufficient dollars saved in the Airport Fund to pay for the local share for both of these projects.
- The Town Council must authorize participation in the FAA Grant. There is an item under New Business regarding the Airport Improvement Grants.

Hangar 1 Lease

- Chairman Byron Treado is here this evening to discuss the Hangar 1 Lease which expired at the end of May. Interstate Aviation is interested in continuing to lease Hangar 1. Chairman Treado will give the details of the proposed lease.
- There is an item under New Business regarding the proposed lease with Interstate Aviation for Hangar 1.

Road Bond Referendum – June 16

- This is a reminder that the Road Bond Referendum vote is tomorrow, June16th from 6:00 am to 8:00 pm at the Firehouse. The referendum question reads: Shall the Town of Plainville appropriate $5M for various road and related improvements, and authorize the issue of bonds and notes in the same amount to finance the appropriation?"
- If approved, it is anticipated that work on local roads would begin later this summer. Residents are encouraged to vote on the referendum question.

Variable Frequency Drive Purchase – WPC

- Sewer Department staff has experienced problems with pipes breaking in the SBR's. (Sequencing Batch Reactors) After some investigation, the staff has determined that the breaks are occurring when the 40HP mixers start up during the batch process. Plant Superintendent Joe Alosso is recommending the installation of 4 variable frequency drives that will slowly bring the motors up to speed.
- The cost of the VFD's are $30,900. There is currently $75,000 in the WPC capital improvement account for these types of projects. The VFD's are a sole source product. There is an item under New Business that would allow for the purchase of the VFD's from Sartron of Guilford, CT in the amount of $24,400 and for the electrical work associated with them to Mace Company of Plainville for $6,500 for a total project cost of $30,900.

Audio Video Equipment – Police Detention Rooms

- The audio-video equipment that monitors the detention rooms at the Police Station need to be updated/replaced. The current system does not synchronize the audio and video making it very difficult to review as they are in two different formats. Chief Matt Catania and IT Director Kevin Ross are recommending the purchase of a complete system that would allow for better monitoring and recording of the detention areas at the police station including the booking area, jail cells and sally port.
- The total cost of the synchronized audio/ video system is $37,631. There are currently funds available in several line items that could pay for the purchase. Those line items include Machinery & Equipment ($20,000), Windows/Office 2010 capital account ($5,000) and Nexgen Software Solution capital account ($12,631).

• The proposed purchase would be done under the State Bid process. There is an item under New Business that would award the contract to Omni Data, LLC of Woodbridge, CT in the amount of $37,630.81.

Purchase of 2016 Ford Fusion

- The FY 16 Capital Improvement Budget includes a $22,000 line item to replace a vehicle that currently has 240,000 miles on it. It is recommended that a Ford Fusion Hybrid be purchased from Crowley Ford under the State Bid process.
- The Ford Fusion Hybrid has the capability of traveling approximately 95 miles on battery power before switching over to the gas engine. The batteries would be re-charged using the new charging station that has been installed at the Municipal Center.
- The Town has secured two grants for the purchase of this vehicle. The first grant if from the 2015 CT Clean Fuel Program for $11,100 and the second a rebate as part of the CT Hydrogen and Electric Automobile Purchase in the amount of $1,500. The net cost of the vehicle will be $19,480.80. There is an item under New Business regarding the purchase of a 2016 Ford Fusion from Crowley Ford of Plainville.

35 States and Counting

It will take you less than a minute to read this. If you agree, please pass it on. It's an idea whose time has come to deal with this self serving situation:

Children of Congress members do not have to pay back their college student loans.

Staffers of Congress family members are also exempt from having to payback student loans.

Members of Congress can retire at full pay after only one term.

Members of Congress have exempted themselves from many of the laws they have passed, under which ordinary citizens must live.

For example, they are exempt from any fear of prosecution for sexual harassment.

And as the latest example, they have exempted themselves from Healthcare Reform, in all of its aspects.

REPORT OF TOWN MANAGER

Town Manager Lee presented and discussed the following topics:

Northwest Drive Bridge – Deck Resurfacing

- The pavement on the Northwest Drive Bridge has numerous cracks and is in need of repaving to avoid water from compromising the decking that holds up the structure. Additional funding from state road grants will be used if construction costs exceed $140,000.

Excerpts of the REPORT.

Republicans: "Every elected official must be held accountable" for state budget stance

Republican legislators Sen. Henri Martin, Rep. Whit Betts, and Rep. Cara Pavalock released the following statement regarding Hartford Healthcare's decision to lay off hundreds of employees in response to the legislature's passage of a state budget which reductions in Medicaid rates and high hospital taxes:

"We voted against the budget bill because we felt it would damage Connecticut's safety net and reduce hospitals' ability to take care of those who are most in need.

"Gov. Malloy has an opportunity to start fresh and avoid this grim scenario. He can veto this bad budget.

"Legislative Democrats in the House and Senate who voted in favor of the budget also have an opportunity. They can choose to stop supporting policies that are threatening patient care and necessary medical services here and throughout the state. These Democrats now have a chance to work to restore the necessary funding back to our community hospitals. Will they?"

"We urge area residents, and everyone who values the services at local Hospitals, to call the following numbers today:

•Gov. Malloy: 800-406-1527 •Senate Democrats:

800-842-1420 •House Democrats at 800-842-1902 "Every elected official – each state representative and each state senator - must be held accountable for his or her vote on this crucial issue. They answer to the taxpayers, so contact them today and ask them where they stand."

COMMUNITY TURF FIELD COMMITTEE PROJECT UPDATE

The Turf Project at Plainville High School will move forward, but with a slightly adjusted timeframe, according to Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Jeffrey Kitching.

- Members of the Community Turf Field Committee met on June 4th to review the project status. Since the previous committee meeting, staff worked with the project's design consultants and the company that submitted the lowest bid during the first competitive bidding process, in an attempt to cut the cost of the project within the overall budget of available funding. During that period of negotiations, it became apparent that the Committee would not be able to reach an agreement with the company and decided not to bring a contract forward to the Town Council in late May. After considerable discussion between the project designers, Kaestle Boos Associates, Dr. Kitching, Town Manager Robert Lee, and leadership from both the Board of Education and Turf Committee, it was decided that the best option would be to rebid the project in late June, with minor modifications and a revised timeline.
- Project modifications for the second bid include a latex track surface, modifying the sideline text, storing existing top soil that is removed on site, and several additional minor adjustments that could potentially produce cost savings, without detracting from the overall quality of the project.
- Under the new timeline, construction document revision would occur during the month of June, and the rebidding of the project between June 29-July 27. Once a contract is awarded, construction would begin on August 15th and would include main field earthwork, track resurfacing, practice field earthwork, main field turf installation, and practice field turf installation.

Board of Education Report:

By: Andrea Saunders BOE Chairperson

The Plainville Board of Education met in March 2015 to begin the evaluation process of the Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Jeffrey Kitching. This process included reviewing the superintendent's self-evaluation, discussing his performance, and establishing a few goals for the next school year 2015-2016.

The Board used a performance evaluation tool focusing on four general areas: Educational Leadership, Organizational Management, Community and Board of Education Relations and Personal/Professional Qualities and Relationships.

Here are some of the highlights:

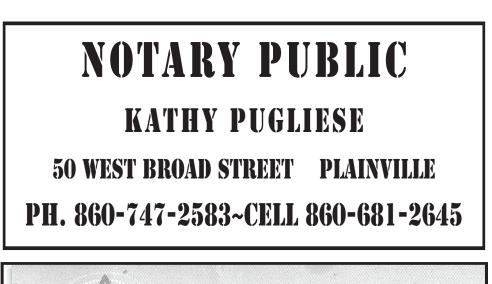

- Dr. Kitching has successfully led the Plainville Community Schools through implementation of the new teacher evaluation system, and the Common Core and the Smarter Balance testing roll out.
- The superintendent has expanded the collaboration between the Business Office functions of the School District and Municipal operations.
- Under the superintendent's leadership the technology expansion balances the needs of our schools and the town with improved security for everyone.
- The superintendent has provided the structure for the PHS turf field project by establishing the broad based committee and keeping the process moving forward.
- Dr. Kitching continues to look for innovative and creative ways to maintain two-way communication with the community through efforts such as "Ask the Superintendent" and information videos produced by our PHS students.
- Dr. Kitching created the "Plainville Is Getting It Right" motto to promote successful initiatives in the district.

The Board then established a few goals for the school year 2015-2016 that we believe will keep the district moving in a positive direction:

- Maintain and keep current the district's technology plan.
- Continue to oversee the PHS turf field project to completion.
- Continue collaborative efforts between the BOE and the Municipality.
- Evaluate the effectiveness of Pre-K, All day Kindergarten and the impact of Common Core State Standards.
- Ensure that the Strategic Planning Goals continue to be monitored which includes keeping the Board informed about the progress.
- Maintain the budget process to ensure community understanding and support.

During the past year, the Board has been very happy and pleased with Dr. Kitching's continued focus on students, teaching and learning. Dr. Kitching has shown great initiative in working with the Board, Town and community to achieve the goals set forth for the Plainville Community Schools. We are pleased to extend his contract and offer a 3.6% increase for the 2015–2016 school year.

Plainville Board of Education: Andrea Saunders, Chair; Deb Hardy, Vice-Chair Brent Davenport, Mike Guiliano, Laurie Peterson, Cheryl Provost, Becky Tyrrell, Foster White, & Barbara Willard

Under the new project timeline, substantial completion of the fields is scheduled for November 1, 2015. The Community Turf Field Committee will meet again in late July after the second round of bids is opened.

- If the second bid process is successful, the revised timeline will have an impact on the boys and girls soccer and football teams' home game schedule only. The sports will be fully functional throughout the fall season, but it would require alternate locations being secured for some home games. The Athletic Coordinator and coaches are aware and prepared to handle this situation.
- "Our primary concern is maintaining the quality of the field we plan for and ultimately install. This adjusted plan provides the best possible opportunity for getting the state-of-art facility our students deserve and for getting it done within the budget," said Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Jeffrey Kitching. "We fully understand the potential inconveniences that the timeline could cause our soccer and football home game schedule, and we will work hard to minimize the effect if the second bidding process is successful."

Life With Wanda.....

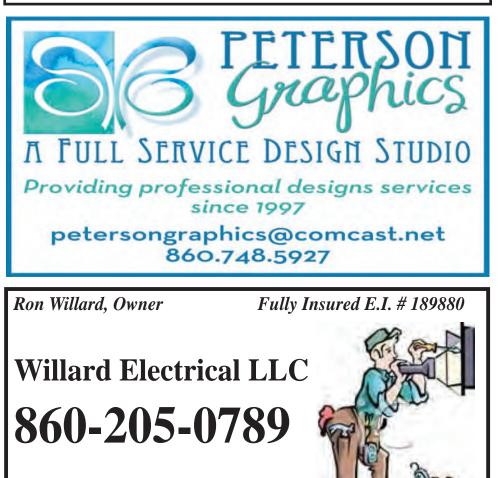

When summer arrives so does a host of problems starting with out of town visitors, flies, mosquitoes, fleas, ticks and relatives and friends you haven't seen in years. They all seem to show up just about lunch time on Sunday and "just seem to be in the area." Now when they live eighty miles away they didn't just happen to be in the area. If you are one of those poor persons who have a cottage at a lake, a pool or a boat you know it happens every year. Oh, they bring something, perhaps a dozen ears of corn or a couple of tomatoes, like that's going to feed the five of them and your gang that you already invited. (How about a pound of hot dogs sometime folks?") Finding the answer is not easy but as you get older you no longer use the pool, as your kids are grown and that cottage at the lake is just a place to go on Sunday so you can mow the lawn. As for the boat you have seen everything around the lake you have wanted to see.

The answer I found was, fill in the pool, sell the cottage at the lake with the boat included or even rent it out to the freeloaders. Take your money and go for a vacation where no one can find you or better yet, make a list of all those that used to drop in on you, buy a couple of tomatoes, a dozen ears of corn and drop in on them around 11:30 on Sunday morning, just to let them know you sold or rented the cottage and filled in the pool.

Have a Great Summer!

Ask the Brayne...

Q. I attended the American Legion Flag burning ceremony and was wondering what some are the rules for displaying Our Flag?

A. Since the flag is a symbol of our nation, it must be treated with reverence. Here are a few of these rules of "flag etiquette". The flag must always be flown right side up, unless used as a signal of distress.

No flag must ever be flown above the flag of the United States on the same staff. The flag should be hoisted briskly at sunrise, and lowered slowly at sunset. The flag must never be allowed to touch the ground. It can be flown at half-mast as a sign of mourning. In such a case, it must first be run up to the top of the staff as usual, then slowly lowered. The flag must never be used for coverings or drapery except when it is used to cover a casket. Our flag design was approved on June 14, 1777, the idea of a National flag was still very new.

Q. Why do Mosquito bites itch?

A. Have you ever heard that, "The female of the species is deadlier than the male?" It certainly applies to mosquitoes. Only female mosquitos suck blood. When the mosquito bites, it injects a poisonous liquid into the blood. This poison causes the pain and itching and produces the swelling.

As a lifelong resident in Plainville and a former Chairperson of the Town Council, I write to congratulate the current Council on an outstanding job. This Council has consistently made decisions that will benefit our residents and businesses while keeping a keen eye on the bottom line. While many other towns and cities struggle with rising budgets and political mischief, our elected officials have risen above all others and are a model for all to follow. Perhaps the legislators in Hartford would like to understand how little Plainville is doing such a top notch job.

Some writers to the various weekly publications relish the opportunity to nitpick and criticize every action the Council takes. In an effort to appease a certain small group of malcontents, the agenda of the Council was revised availing citizens two opportunities to speak. A three minute time limit is placed on the first section while comment during the second segment is unlimited. Even this has become a "sticking point" for some who question "is the Council Chair really listening to the residents or waiting for the Town Manager's queue?" The answer to that inquiry is very simple – both...the Chair is listening and also able to acknowledge when the speaker has exhausted their time. Oftentimes, an individual has been allowed to continue past the allotted three minutes.

The same malcontent recently wrote in a local weekly newspaper, that the Chair never wrote an explanation about the Old Linden Street School.

That was absolutely wrong. If that person would really pay attention to the workings of the Council, he would not have missed the Chair's letter of explanation about the Linden Street School included in the budget in the Plainville Citizen and the New Britain Herald during the week of April 15th. Getting back to the time limit to speak at Town Council meetings, perhaps those unhappy with this format should visit the State Capital and witness the process for testimony to Commissions...after five minutes a loud, disruptive buzzer sounds and the presenter is advised their time is up!

Let's start being more appreciative of what our volunteer Town Council members actually accomplish for everyone rather than manufacture insignificant trivia.

Connecticut Republicans Chairman, JR Romano

Second Largest Tax Hike

Governor Dan Malloy and his Democrat allies are in the midst of the second largest tax hike in Connecticut history, only four short years after they passed the largest tax hike ever!

Connecticut already has the nation's worst business climate, and failed Democrat leadership is only making it harder for companies to keep the doors open in Connecticut.

Too often we hear about Connecticut job creators seeking shelter from the increasingly burdensome tax and regulatory climate and turning to pro-business, pro-growth states.

Every day we read headlines of more bad news for Democrats, the governor, and our state. From ignored subpoenas to illegal campaign contributions to backroom budget deals, they are too busy playing by their own rules to solve Connecticut's problems. While Dan Malloy and the Democrats remain in a fantasy land about the mess they have created, we will continue to be a target for other states to poach our companies and the jobs that go with them. As Chairman of the Connecticut Republican Party, I will continue the fight to retain the businesses that have long been a part of our communities make Connecticut a more attractive alternative for new companies as well.

Toffolon Students Present "Buddy Bench"

The fifth grade students at Louis Toffolon Elementary School recently presented a "Buddy Bench" to the school, as a gift from the Class of 2015. The bench was built and donated by Bill Miller of Miller Remodeling and father of fifth grade student, Emma Miller. The students raised the money for the planters and plaques on the bench by holding bake sales after several school events. The plaques on the bench clearly state its purpose, "Find a Friend, Be a Friend." However, the students also made a video, with the help of student support/behavior technician Mr. Ray Guarino, to educate the rest of the school about the bench, its purpose, and how to use it.

Toffolon School Hosts Fundraisers

The Louis Toffolon Elementary School Student Council recently held two fundraisers. First, a Ribbons For Life week was held at school to raise money for a Relay For Life team. Students in the school donated a dollar and received a neon animal ribbon to wear all week to support relay for life. $143.00 was raised and donated to Toffolon staff member Mrs. Laurie Boland, a cancer survivor, as a way to thank her for all her work with the children in our school. Mrs. Boland has donated the money to her Relay For Life team and their effort to raise awareness about cancer. The Student Council also held a "Pennies for Pets" in conjunction with their whole school book: The World According to Humphrey about a school's pet hamster who has many adventures. Students from all grade levels brought in pennies for two weeks. Once the penny collection cans were full, the Student Council donated the money to a new animal rescue center being opened in Plainville, Almost Home, run by Mrs. Meda Talley, who generously accepted the pennies on behalf of the student council. $183.00 in pennies was donated to the cause.

Wheeler Elementary School talent show held on May 29th. Acts included singing, instrumental, and more. Many of the songs centered around a common theme of encouragement and perseverance.

Andrew Batchelder recently supported the Relay For Life event by being "all taped up." Students raised $343 by purchasing 343 pieces of tape and taped Principal Batchelder for the fundraiser.

Jade Helm-15 Leadership Kept in the Dark - - The Secret Goals of Jade Helm are Leaking Out - -Can This Be Another Conspiracy??

One day, we are going to awaken to the reality that our country is no more. There will be no more United States, no Constitution, and no civil liberties. There will only be a handful of corporations, backed by national armies, who will bring lethal force against any and all who resist. It will all happen in the blink of an eye on the day that American transforms into Amerika.*

Watch Out for T.P.P. (Trans Pacific Partnership). The President is unpopular with the military; he can transform and establish Civilian National Security Force. The Trans Pacific Partnership will bring down the U.S. Government and cause a collapse of the dollar.

Jade Helm-15 will assist in the transition between the former United States and the Trans Pacific Partnership (TPP). This is what some who are running Jade Helm believe the goal is. Can the President use Martial Law to cancel an election, as long as it seems fit? Martial Law is a system of complete control by a country and Military over all activities. Including civilians in a theoretical or actual war zone, or during a period of unrest. (Excerpts from the Patriot A Grass roots Newspaper, June 2015 Volume 6 Edition 8.)

On the surface this seems unbelievable!!!! Look it up in Goggle, Snoops, or your best information network.

"Oxymoron" literally in Greek means a "sharp fool"; says one thing and means another. Samples Like: plastic silverware, or giant shrimp.

The President said, "You can keep your health insurance if you want" -Governor Malloy of CT said, "No New Taxes on hard-working CT families and businesses by more than $1.5B." Large companies moving out and no new ones moving in. Government Fund spending for fiscal year 2016 is $784M more than the current year and fails to honor the constitutional spending CAP. "Sharp Fools"!

There are over a hundred verses in the Qur'an that exhort believers to wage jihad against unbelievers. "O Prophet! Strive hard against the unbelievers and the hypocrites, and be firm against them. Their abode is Hell, an evil refuge indeed." (Qur'an 9:73)

Don't be brainwashed. Have you heard of Hitler's brown shirts? Watch out for the blue shirts!!! Are there sleeper cells that will show their real selves when given the command?

So far, could these be the only states that have more people on Welfare than are employed? (CA, NM, MS, AL, SC, KY, IL, NY, HI, and ME?)

Do you believe it takes a village to raise a child, or two parents?

Wake up Governor, and all the puppets that follow like sheep and think of the rest of us and the cost of living in Connecticut. There are many states that will gladly accept our manufacturing jobs and businesses. Wake up before it's too late.

"My people have been lost sheep; Their Shepherds have led them astray."

"Though we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must carry it with us, or we find it not." (Ralph Waldo Emerson)

The Lost Art of.. ... Letter Writing (Part 11)

(Article continued from June, Part 1) Letters are the history of our lives made solid. They place us in our collective history. Letters we choose to save show us who we have embraced, or who we have turned away from. They are yet a presence in our lives, persevering as once they did, alive, singular, and vibrant. Correspondence brightens the mail. How wonderful to find something besides bills and shoppers and junk, mail addressed to "Current resident".

Old love letters are fascinating because the whole purpose of them are that they are a true gift of love. An onliest gift, each one of a kind, with a unique vitality.

Letters from sons and husbands serving in our many armed forces and wars are especially poignant, filled with hope and glory and longing for hearth and home.

Letters from children at camp or in college are often funny, not usually intentionally, but portraying a stage in their growth and maturity, ranging from homesickness to now I know it all.

Condolence letters offer compassion and empathy. A letter written in grief has the power to assuage grief, both for the writer and recipient. There is no greater power to lessen the sorrow and to bring comfort to the bereaved. Memories of the lost one, gentle humor about his/her eccentricities, flaws, and strengths.

Thank you letters, sincerely written for a gift, a dinner, or a special kindness have sadly fallen away. Like a condolence letter, a thank you is a two-way street. A form of acknowledgement of the honor that the recipient has caused in the life of the writer. There is enough sorrow in the world without trying to invent it. A corollary to that sentiment is that there is more than enough kindness. We just have to recognize it.

Occasionally letters are sent in anger. Written and mailed without thought and sorely regretted when it is too late. It is OK to write vitriolic letters, but hold on to them for a day or so before posting. Then, if it still feels right send them; but remember, it is not possible to retract the written word.

Sometimes letters become documents to create a reality we call proof in a court of Law, be it a civil or criminal case. Handwriting can be used by a forensic detective to validate authenticity. The type of paper used can be useful; especially, stationary with water marks can be a clue to the perpetrator. As much joy as it give us to read old letters, sometimes some letters should be burned.

An earlier correspondent complained that the electric telegraph is a great nuisance keeping one in a constand ferment of apprehension and doubt. We live in a digital age. E-mails and texts have replaced communications on paper with the exception of "Hallmark" cards for all occasions. Can you imagine saving text messaages and e-mails printed out on cheap computer paper without the special penmanship, for better or worse, of your friend? It takes a little time and effort to write a real letter, but it is worth it! A piece of time saved and remembered.

Just one smart chicken trying to resurrect and preserve Penmanship and Letter Writing!

Get Your Local Produce at the Farmers Market of Plainville

I grew up on a farm, I am convinced you can never take the farmer out of me.

By Mary Ziccardi

When the seed catalogues arrive in January, I pour over them and visualize my spring and summer garden. I order my seeds and cannot wait till May 30th when it is safe to plant. Before May 30th you stand the chance of frost or very cold nights as happened this year. In late May we had cold nights and people covered their plants to protect them. What they didn't realize is that the ground is cold and the plant roots need warm soil or they sit paralysed in the cold earth, they do not grow. Actually they are stunted and take time to recover.

Planting too soon isn't always wise. Visualize yourself spending the night in a cold garden, plants are living things, as well.

Due to problems with my legs and old age, I was not able to plant my garden and I felt badly. My daughter, Donna, offered to plant it for me. She isn't a gardener as I am and I was surprised how well the garden looked when she finished. I planted pumpkin seeds in paper cups weeks earlier and they were happy to be in the ground. Pumpkin plant vines spread a great distance and they need space in the garden which she gave them. Today they look happy to be out of their cups and have room to spread.

I love to see the pumpkins form, they are cherry orange and seem to waken the garden.

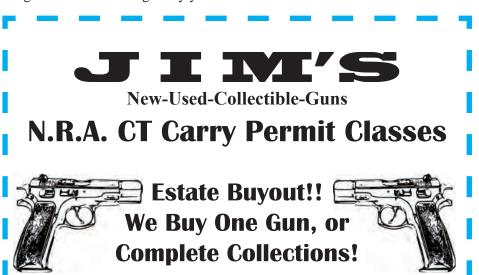

One year I had a marvelous plot of pumpkins and the night before harvesting the raccoons took bites out of all of them. "Not one was spared".

This year we are having a problem with Deer. Donna planted a row of Sun flower plants, which I also started in paper cups, in the rear of the garden, so I could see their happy faces each morning. When I looked out at them one morning, the Deer ate them all!!!!

She also planted four rows of sweet corn. I think she planted them too deep; not one came through. Just as well, the Deer would have eaten them too!!

This year I planted purple tomatoes seeds in cups, the fruit is actually purple. They tell me they taste like red tomatoes. I wonder how I will feel to bite into a purple tomato. I will find out soon. The plants are purple as well. I can see the difference from mu regular tomato plants.

That's what I like about gardening; there is something new and interesting every year.

Property Maintenance Ordinance

To the Editor,

Seems this new property maintenance ordinance is misnamed. Better to call it "Let's start an Argument Recipe". If somebody in your neighborhood doesn't like your bird bath, they report you to the authorities. This is sure to start some back stabbing neighborhood feuds. What ever happened to people TALKING reasonably to each other? Too busy looking at our "Smart" phones and thinking the worst of each other? SAD

While no one should have a hay field in their front yard, and the Chung property was an eyesore, why pick on the little guy storing firewood or compost in his back yard? Not all of us can afford a fence or have a big garage.

This is Plainville, guess we're all nouveau-riche like Litchfield now and have designer yards.

Oops-Gott'a get the tweezers, there's a dandelion in my yard---HORRORS!

Curbing Hunger – One Choice at a time.

By Linda Coveney, Integrative Nutrition Health Coach

Curbing your Hunger

My typical breakfast is a smoothie. I like this because it's a balanced meal loaded with greens, fruits, (carbs) chia seeds (fat) and raw cacoa powder (protein). So even if I make some choices during the day that aren't optimal, I know that I've started with a good, powerful base.

Lately, I noticed that I was hungry again just a few hours after consuming this delicious and refreshing drink. After consulting with an Ayurveda specialist, I decided to eliminate the banana and add a little nut butter as an additional healthy fat.

Now, bananas are a great fruit, loaded with fiber and potassium. Like, all things nutrition, you will find the pros and cons of the impact that bananas have on your blood sugar. Bananas have a glycemic index (GI) of 62 and a glycemic load (GL) of 16. The index provides information on much a food raises blood glucose levels compared to a standard of eating pure glucose. A score over 70 is considered high. Glycemic load considers a typical serving of food and 20 or more is considered high.

Neither scores take into account nutritional value, so you really need to be careful that you don't put too much emphasis on this information alone.

I replaced my banana with either a pear or apple and added a cucumber, some almond butter and on occasion some celery. By comparison, the pear has a GI of 38 and a GL of 4.

After making this new choice, I noticed that my hunger stayed in check until lunchtime. This eliminated distraction mid-morning and adding calories that I really didn't need. The time not eating in between meals also allowed my body to burn fat.

While this change in recipe worked for me, it might not necessarily work for you. We are all different in how we process food. There are many variables to consider.

The key is to pay attention to signals you are receiving. Your body is your best nutritionist. But like any good advice, you need to listen and then act on it. One simple way is to keep a food diary of what you are eating, why you are eating, how you feel immediately after and a few hours later. This will help you recognize the signals and decide when you need to make some better choices. If you are interested in doing this, send me an email with subject line Food Diary and I'll send you a document you can use.

By documenting your emotions and food, you might also discover what you are hungry for that doesn't have anything to do with food.

Curbing Hunger in the Community

Recently, I had the pleasure of meeting Suzie Woerz, Executive Director of the Plainville Community Food Pantry, thefoodpantry.net.

She is a powerhouse of energy with a lot of passion to help families who need basic support of food and other assistance. My eyes were opened about the plight of many adults and children in our own small town that are hungry everyday. Some are seniors that are dependent on Social Security alone and some are families in low paying jobs. With rising grocery prices, it's difficult to keep up.

This really hit home for me since I had just attended two events where food was so abundant that much of it was wasted and certainly thrown out. You may remember your parents telling you to finish your food because there are starving kids in other parts of the world. When it's closer to home, it has more relevance.

If you are able, please consider how you might be able to provide some assistance to the Plainville Community Food Pantry.

Pulling it all Together

Here are some summer tips to help curb hunger:

- Balance your meals with carbs, healthy fats and protein.
- Experiment with new foods and pay attention to how they make your feel. Adjust as necessary.
- Ask for 1/2 portions when dining out. Don't encourage waste unless you like leftovers.
- Eat mindfully and slowly and you will notice when you are full and avoid overeating.
- Get out and exercise. Enjoy the warmth that we longed for all winter long.

Plainville Town Council, school board, Superindentant Kitching Mr. Lee and other department heads held a meeting June 4th pertaining to this for the high school athletic fields. They received a state grant and a Tinty gift to fund the project. The bids came in too high, so they are cutting where they can to keep the cost down.

The problem as I see it is still the ground up rubber base for the turf. It is linked to causing cancer and other injuries. This has been stated on TV, the internet, and local newspapers since we were offered this money. There are other alternatives to use besides the ground up rubber but they are all more costly. Dr. Kitching states the base material should still be used for other materials have not been used in our region, so not tested. He also thinks the standard material is safe. Yes, there are other schools in CT that have this turf, but the cancer scare was not known at the time it was installed. Would they have used it if they knew?

What is wrong with grass? You need to mow it, water it, reseed occassionally and perhaps fertilize it. There are health sage fertilizers available. The worst that can happen is maybe grass stains on your uniform or some mud on a rainy day. I haven't heard of anyone getting cancer from grass. Is the rubber based turf worth the risk of even one child getting cancer sometime down the road worth it? Bob Doolittle

"I.T. Jim's" A Smarter Way to Manage Your Pictures

In February I wrote about the importance of keeping backups of your pictures, documents, and other important files that are saved on your computer. The article was a response to a Today.com story about how our paper photos can outlive the photos we have saved on our computers and phones. Storage media like CDs, DVDs, hard drives, memory cards, and USB sticks will fail or become obsolete eventually. Who remembers Floppy Disks or Zip drives?

Photographs are a critical part of how we remember our past. We remember loved ones, historical events, and memorable achievements with pictures. Losing those memories would be heartbreaking. Many of you have a large number of pictures stored on your computers that may not be backed up.

With the advent of digital photography, the number of photos we have has grown substantially. For many, keeping them organized has become a real problem. I have thousands of pictures that were completely unorganized. Finding that picture I took of my niece in 2009 was very difficult.

Google recently released a new photo management and backup system that is, in my opinion, revolutionary. With Google Photos, you have unlimited space to store all of your photos in the cloud. When your photos are there, Google's servers organize the photos for you and make them available to you on any computer, phone, and tablet you own. And, by organize, I mean that their servers are capable of sorting your pictures by People, Places, and Things. I tell you it is truly amazing. It uses facial recognition to sort your pictures by people. For me, it was able to recognize my niece as a child and as an adult and know that they were the same person. It sorts by location as long as your photos were taken with geo-location turned on. It recognizes and sorts pictures by things like picnics, stadiums, mountains, and Christmas as well.

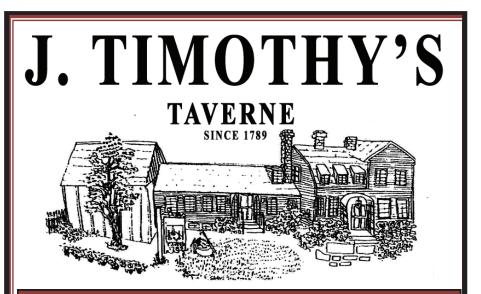

There are apps for iPhone, Android, Windows and Apple computers. The iOS and Android apps serve as a photo gallery app to give you full access to your entire library photos. It also backs up all of the photos on these devices to Google Photos.

The app for Windows and Apple Computers will back up all of the photos you choose, to Google Photos as well. Any time you save new photos to your computer, they are automatically backed up.

Beyond the organization of your photos, Google Photos also creates great experiences based on your pictures. Groups of photos can be made into animated sequences. Related photos and videos are instantly combined into movies with soundtracks. Stories can be created based on a series of photos taken on a trip or at an event. Take pictures of a landscape and Google Photo will automatically build panorama shots. Your photos can be auto enhanced to improve color and brightness or add filters to give them a special look.

Google Photos really is a revolutionary new way to finally organize your entire photo library and back them up securely online. I hope you visit google.com/photos and see it for yourself. Then, take some great photos this summer and enjoy them for generations to come. See you in September!

I welcome your suggestions for new columns and questions about any columns I have written. Email me at jim.phc@gmail.com.

LIVING HEALTHY CHEMICAL FREE

We Are Not Buying It Donna Ziccardi

It does my heart good to see so many people choosing healthy, GMO Free and chemical free products. And I am happy to see the power of the consumer driving stocks and profits down for companies that have been poisoning us and our environment for so many decades.

Yes, companies are now listening to the demands of the American consumer. Some are coming "clean" totally like Chipotle and some are playing "footsie" with our minds, by eliminating one or two toxic ingredients and leaving in the rest. Hershey's Chocolate, as stated in my last publication, was just going to eliminate toxic high fructose corn syrup and leave the other cancer causing ingredients in their chocolate until they were on the receiving end of public backlash from educated consumers who are leading this food revolution in this country. Also, incase you have not heard, waiting for your elected officials to act in your best interest is no longer the "trend". No longer the "flavor of the day". People are sick and tired of getting sick, and they are taking their health into their own hands. So watch out corporate America, we are coming after you, one company at a time until we force "D.C." to stop selling out the voters.

Even the FDA, of all infiltrated agencies, is becoming proactive in looking out for your best interest. (I can not believe I am writing this). Right now, if there is less than .5% trans fat in a product, the FDA does not require it to be on the list of ingredients. So much for truth in labeling. But just recently, June 16th, on the New Moon I might add, the FDA announced that it will give the food industry 3 years to eliminate trans fats from foods in the food supply. Better late than never FDA, as Europe has been trans fat free for years. Even though the FDA previously deemed trans fats safe for food consumption, the Institute of Medicines shows there is NO SAFE levels for trans fats, especially in children whose bodies and brains are more vulnerable to the health dangers of trans fats.

What is so bad about trans fats you say? Several studies have shown trans fats to be linked to inflammation in the body. Inflammation in the body creates an acidic ph instead of an alkaline ph. And an acidic ph and inflammation in the body leads to disease and eventually death. Diseases such as heart disease, cancer, respiratory disease, stroke, Alzheimer's, diabetes and nephritis. And this leads me to the topic of this article. Carrageenan.

A few weeks ago, Mary and I were shopping in our local grocery store and there was a very nice man demonstrating a product called Brooklyn Creamery Cream. All natural ingredients. No artificial preservatives, no sugar, salt or carbs. Gluten free and kosher. WOW!!! Sounds perfect! You can use it in many ways. In cooking, baking and spoon on your favorite ice cream and desserts. "Here, try some", the nice man says. OK, I will. Hummm, very good. I grabbed a package and started reading the ingredients. That is when I woke up from my tasty, creamy dream. It contained cream from a family owned dairy farm that does not use synthetic rBST on their cows, very good. It contained nisin that is a natural antibacterial peptide, which is excellent. But when I read it contained carrageenan, I put it back.

The demonstrator was perplexed. He said carrageenan is a seaweed, it is natural, which is true. But it is a type of red edible seaweed that creates inflammation in the body which in turn creates an acid ph, which will set you up for cancer and other diseases. I left this nice man scratching his head, "but it is all natural??!?" Yes, but "all natural" does not mean it is safe to eat or use. Poison Ivy is natural but I would not make a sandwich with it.

There are some foods that are considered to be more acidic and they are meats, eggs and grains. But these foods have value. They add to the over all health of your system. You can make sure you counter balance the acid of these foods with foods that are more alkaline, which are your fruits, especially avocados and lemons: vegetables, especially celery: nuts and seeds.

Carrageenan can not be digested by the body and has zero food value. So why bother? It is destructive to your digestive system and is now known to trigger your body into having immune responses as if it where being attacked by pathogens like Salmonella. It is now being linked to causing ulceration of the stomach lining and intestinal bleeding, and gastro intestinal cancer in lab rats. The food industry uses it to thicken and emulsify a product but do they know what it is doing to you? Do they even care? So people, why torture yourselves?

When you know better, you do better. And if it is going to kill us, make us sick, we are not buying it anymore.....because we choose to live healthy chemical free......

AARP Connecticut Joins Effort to Break Up Online Dating Scams

$81 Million Lost Nationally to Scammers in Just One Year

AARP Petition Calls for Online Dating Industry to Take Steps to Protect Its Users from Fraud (Washington, D.C and Hartford, CT) - With romance scammers using the Internet to rob Americans of an estimated $81 million per year, AARP's Fraud Watch Network today called on the online dating industry to institute new safeguards to better protect their users. AARP Connecticut and local Fraud Watch partners are inviting members and the general public to become involved in the national campaign by signing an online petition.

"Individual scammers and highly organized groups attempt to steal hearts and wallets from online dating site users every day," said Nora Duncan, AARP state director in Connecticut. "Most sites don't vet do enough to protect their members from known scammers. Our petition asks the companies to take commonsense steps to help put a stop to online dating scams."

Demonstrating the ease with which online dating con artists currently operate, the June/July edition of AARP The Magazine contains the compelling story of one victim who was robbed of hundreds of thousands of dollars in a romance fraud.

The Internet Crime Complaint Center reported receiving more than 6,400 complaints with losses totaling $81 million regarding romance scams in just one year, 2013, its most recent annual information. To combat such losses, specific anti-fraud measures the Fraud Watch Network urges the online dating sites to implement include:

Employ algorithms to detect suspicious language patterns used by scammers.

Search for fake profiles across multiple dating websites.

Issue alerts to any member who has been in contact with someone using a fraudulent profile.

Educate members with tips on how to avoid romance scammers.

As part of its current campaign, the AARP Fraud Watch Network has posted tips to advise dating site members how to avoid online scams. One handy tip is: Before you engage with anyone on a dating site, use Google's "search by image" feature to see if that person's image shows up in other places using a different name. If an email from a potential suitor seems suspicious, cut and paste it into Google and see if the words pop up on any romance scam sites. Connecticut consumers can learn more for themselves, their friends and family members by visiting www.aarp.org/fraudwatchnetwork

THE IMPORTANCE OF LIVING WILLS

A living will, also called an "advance directive," conveys a patient's wishes regarding treatment when those wishes can no longer be personally communicated. A living will must be constructed and authorized before the given individual is incapacitated in any way.

The importance of creating a living will is most evident in two particular forms. The first such incident is when an individual may be unable to convey their desires for treatment - the advance directive provides the individual's wishes regarding life-sustaining treatment. Second, a living will is valuable for a person to identify a surrogate decision-maker for times of illness or incapacity. The premise behind a living will is exactly the same as the premise behind a standard "Last Will and Testament," that is to provide instructions for treatment during their time of illness or incapacity. The only major difference is that an advance directive also provides for a surrogate decision maker to convey what they believe the incapacitated person's wishes may be.

One final point on this issue specifically pertaining to our State is that Connecticut law only requires physicians to consider advance directives when deciding on treatment plans for incapacitated patients. However, they do not have to comply with the directive. This section of the law differs greatly from other states such as Oregon, where physicians have far less autonomy when determining a patient's fate.

Now more than ever, we as Americans need to understand our rights and how to preserve them during our lives and beyond. Living wills and our "Last Will and Testament" are ways of ensuring our true desires are carried out in the event that we are unable to communicate them ourselves. At the very least, a "Last Will and Testament" is essential for a well-planned estate.

Happy 4th of July and Enjoy the Summer!!

LOCAL EDUCATOR SELECTED TO PARTICIPATE IN ADVANCED PLACEMENT PROGRAM READING

NEW YORK - Plainville, Connecticut resident Francis Rexford Cooley was selected to participate in the College Board's Annual AP Reading in European History. Mr. Cooley is the Dean of the College at Paier College of Art in Hamden, CT. Each June, AP teachers and college faculty members from around the world gather in the United States to evaluate and score the free-response sections of the AP Exams. During the 2015 scoring sessions, more than 13,500 AP Readers evaluated more than 4.5 million AP Exams.

AP Readers are high school and college educators who represent many of the world's leading academic institutions. The AP Reading is a unique forum in which an academic dialogue between educators is both fostered and encouraged. "The Reading draws upon the talents of some of the finest teachers and professors that the world has to offer," said Trevor Packer, Senior Vice President, AP and Instruction at the College Board. "It fosters professionalism, allows for the exchange of ideas, and strengthens the commitment to students and to teaching. We are very grateful for the contributions of talented educators like Francis Rexford Cooley."

The Advanced Placement Program® (AP®) enables willing and academically prepared students to pursue college-level studies – with the opportunity to earn college credit, advanced placement or both - while still in high school. Through AP courses in 36subjects, each culminating in a rigorous exam, students learn to analyze complex problems, construct solid arguments, and see many sides of an issue - skills that prepare them for college and beyond. Research indicates that students who score a 3 or higher on an AP Exam typically experience greater academic success in college and are more likely to earn a college degree than non-AP students.

"Funkenomics" Plainville's Own Hand-made Hawaiian Clothing

Dan Hermanowski is a 24-year-old native from Plainville, Connecticut, who has always pushed his creative boundaries. After graduating from Keene State College in Keene, New Hampshire with a degree in Film studies, he was unsure of what to do with his life after college.

Throughout the summer of 2013, Dan traveled the country for a bit going to different music festivals and concerts. While traveling through different parts of the country Dan noticed there was such a high demand for funky Hawaiian button ups at various clothing stores and realized they were overpriced and poorly made. He decided he wanted to make his own clothing without having to spend $100+ at retail stores. He came home one weekend with an idea in his mind and decided to pursue it. He asked his Mom how easy it would be to make Hawaiian shirts and began to learn how to sew.

About a year ago Funkenomics was born and since then he has sold shirts up and down the east coast, even as far as Oregon and California. What makes Funkenomics so unique is that each design has never been used more than once. After getting a lot of positive feedback when he released his first line of Hawaiian shirts he decided to experiment with pants, handbags, and vests.

Each article of clothing is hand-made and each pattern has never been worn by anyone else. Majority of the time his customers let him know what colors or designs they like and he will try to find something to match that at various fabric stores throughout New England. This also allows Dan to get to know his customers on a name to name basis and connect with people from all over the country.

If you are interested in purchasing any hand-made article of clothing from Funkenomics check out: www.funkenomics.com or www.facebook.com/funkenomics

E-Cigarettes

Smoking—a proven harmful and deadly habit is an addiction shared among an estimated 42.1 million adult Americans.

Now, more and more smokers, including adolescents, are turning to the increasingly popular electronic cigarettes, or e-cigarettes. Read on for more information about the risk of e-cigarette use. What is an e-cigarette?

An e-cigarette is a battery-operated device that converts the liquid chemical propylene glycol, as well as nicotine, flavoring, and other additives, into a vapor that you can inhale. This practice is known as "vaping."

Who uses e-cigarettes?

As of July 2014, as many as 2.5 million Americans were using e-cigarettes, and these devices have become especially popular in urban areas and among teenagers. Research also shows that in 2013, more than a quarter million middle and high school students who had never before smoked conventional cigarettes had used an e-cigarette three times as many as in 2011.

What are the risks of e-cigarette use?

Smoking conventional cigarettes is known to lead to a multitude of health problems, as well as dental problems, including gum disease and oral cancer. However, there currently isn't much research on how smoking e-cigarettes may affect your health in the long term.

What experts do know is that if you smoke e-cigarettes, then you are inhaling nicotine, which is highly addictive and the most common form of chemical dependence in the U.S. When it comes to your oral health, nicotine can harm your teeth > and gums, and it also may contribute to gingivitis, dry mouth, and gum disease, among other conditions. What are recommended alternatives to smoking?

If you're interested in quitting smoking, instead of picking up an e-cigarette, try the following:

• Ask your health care provider about nicotine replacement therapy. Nicotine nasal sprays and inhalers are available with a prescription, as are smoking cessation medications like $Zyban^{TM}$ and Chantix®. Speak with your physician if you're interested in trying this type of therapy. Patches, gum, and lozenges to help with smoking cessation also are available over the counter.

• Reach out. Quitting smoking often requires support. Find a friend you can count on to help you stick to your smoking cessation goals. Or, join a support group. Health professionals, such as your dentist or physician, can suggest groups for you to join.

• Focus on relaxation. Some people smoke to reduce stress. Instead, try meditation or deep breathing exercises, or take a yoga class.

• Exercise. Thirty minutes of physical activity each day may help reduce your desire for a cigarette. So, if you're feeling the urge to smoke, try hitting the gym instead. Quitting smoking is difficult and may take more than one try, so don't become discouraged if you're not completely successful the first time.

If you're already a user of either e-cigarettes or conventional cigarettes, it's never too late to quit. Talk with your dentist or another health care provider for more information.

Sunday Gone Fishing

Put some worms in a Prince Albert Tobacco can that I had dug for bait.

Told Gram "I'm going fishing." She said "Dinner's at twelve, don't be late"

Floating down in the Cherry Brook on a raft I built on Saturday.

Got a fish line tied to my big toe.

Hope they won't bite today.

While laying on a mattress Grandma gave to me. I watch the puffy clouds roll by and make believe I'm off to sea.

Wendell Copeland~Local Poet-

From the church I hear people sing "A Closer Walk with Thee."

As my raft floats down the brook, my mind drifts back to sea.

Hear the church bells ringing.

People going home for a day of rest.

I say a little prayer of thanks for this day I've spent the way I love best.

* This is but one of Wendell's poems published in a Book of Poems. He read this one at the recent AARP meeting.

BIBLE CAMP

Summer is here! The highlight of our summer is our Summer Bible Camp. Our staff is busy planning for an exciting week. This year it will be Monday Friday, August 10th thru the 14th from 6:30 - 8:30 pm each evening. Our theme this year is "Camp Courageous." We are inviting anyone from ages 4-13. Each evening we have a song time, a Bible story, game time, snack time, a missionary story, and we end the evening with craft time where each child makes something to bring home. We end Bible Camp on Friday evening with a Carnival like game night/cookout where all the parents are invited. Everything is free including the food

Our goal in having Summer Bible Camp is to take the opportunity to tell children about the gospel. Do you know what the gospel is? The gospel is the good news about Jesus Christ. He came to this earth to die on the cross for the sins of the whole world. He was the Perfect, Spotless Lamb of God who would shed His blood to take away the sins of the world (John 1:29). His death on Calvary's cross was sufficient to pay for all our sins. He died and rose again and offers salvation (eternal life) as a gift to whosoever will believe on Him and receive Him as their personal Savior (Ephesians 2:8-9; John 1:12). This is what we emphasize at our Bible Camp because we believe a personal relationship with the Lord Jesus is necessary to enter heaven and thus it is the most important decision anyone can make. If you would like to send your child(ren) to Bible Camp you can call us at the number above. See you there!

~ Eleonore (Schulmeyer) Gervais ~

87, of Plainville, who read the obituaries faithfully would be proud to have finally made the paper, finished her beautiful life on Wednesday, June 3, 2015. She was the beloved wife of Marcel Gervais, with whom she shared 66 years of marriage.

Born and raised in Germany by her parents Peter and Lina Schulmeyer, Eleonore met Marcel during his service in the Air Force, and they married in 1949. They settled in Plainville, with Eleonore arriving on Ellis Island on the Fourth of July. A caregiver from a young age, Eleonore had a heartwarming personality, caring for those in need, both near and far. A devoted wife, mother, and grandmother, she often showed special appreciation for our troops to whom she frequently sent care packages. Despite her difficult upbringing during W.W.II, Eleonore possessed a sense of humor (even throughout her final moments) and a positive outlook on life that resonated with everyone she met. She had a special fondness for flowers and gardening, enjoyed boating, crocheting, shopping, and above all being surrounded by her adored family. She will be greatly missed, leaving a lifetime of memories and many laughs. Eleonore's family extends their gratitude to the doctors and nurses at UCONN Health Center, the services of Interim Health Care, and the many caregivers over the years, for the compassionate care shown to her.

In addition to her husband, Marcel, she leaves her daughter, Jacqueline Screen; her granddaughters, Jessica (Screen) Birmingham and her husband, Christopher and Joy Screen; and her pride and joy, her great-granddaughter, Madisyn Brzezinski. She also leaves her sister, Karin Gervais; and many nieces and nephews, including Mark Gervais and his wife, Donna. She was predeceased by her beloved son-inlaw Phillip Screen, her brother Luis Schulmeyer, her brother-in-law Raymond Gervais, and sister-in-law Madeline McGray. A memorial service in celebration of Eleonore's life was held at the Bailey Funeral Home, 48 Broad St. Plainville. In honor of Eleonore's love for life and uplifting spirit, brightly colored clothing is encouraged. Those who wish may remember Eleonore with contributions to The American Cancer Society or the ALS Foundation. For online expressions of sympathy, please visit:www.bailey-funeralhome.com.

What are Nonconforming Uses? Town of Plainville

Zoning regulations are said to be permissive, which is to say that if it's not permitted, it's prohibited. Consider the alternative: prohibiting every noxious use you can think of. Some are bound to be missed. The list of uses we would not want located next to our own home would certainly be a long one. By stating expressly what the Town of Plainville wants in terms of development, the Planning and Zoning Commission sends a strong message as to what we do not want. Before zoning regulations existed, it was generally understood that you could build what you wanted on your land, and use it in any way you saw fit. A very American proposition and one that stands on high moral ground. Until, that is, your next door neighbor decides to turn his 1/2 acre lot into a high production pork farm. You're still red, white and blue, but perhaps now mostly blue because of the noxious odor and noise generated by the offending

~ Joan Elizabeth (Janes) Moreno ~

81, of Unionville, beloved wife of Vincent Moreno, passed away peacefully at her home, surrounded by her family on Thursday, June 11, 2015.

Born and raised in Unionville, she was one six children of the late Levi and Louise (Satonick) Janes.

Joan was a 1952 graduate of Farmington High School, where she excelled at sports, as Captain of the women's field hockey team, co-captain of the softball team and a member of the basketball team. She and Vincent settled in Plainville after their marriage in 1956, where they raised their four children and she helped with the family business, Tom's Café. Additionally, Joan worked in retail as an Avon sales representative, and later, for Marshall's. Joan enjoyed various games, going bowling, bird watching, and wintering at their home in Sarasota, Florida.

In addition to her husband, Vincent, she leaves her children, Laura D'Amico of Farmington, Linda Bak and her husband, Michael of Bristol, Beata Alexander and her husband, Michael of Portland, OR, and James Moreno and his wife, Jane of Farmington, thirteen grandchildren, her sister and brother in law Sandy and Joe Olendar, several nieces and nephews, and her beloved faithful companion, her dog Cody. She was predeceased by her brothers Clarence Janes, Levi Janes and Robert Janes, her sister Barbara Mulcunary and her son-in-law, Don D'Amico.

Funeral services in celebration of Joan's life were held from Bailey Funeral Home, 48 Broad St, Plainville, followed by a Mass of Christian Burial at Our Lady of Mercy Church. Committal services followed at St. Joseph Cemetery. Joan may be remembered with contributions to the Alzheimer's Association of Connecticut, 2075 Silas Deane Hwy, #100, Rocky Hill, CT 06067 or the North Central Area Agency on Aging, 151 New Park Ave, #76, Hartford, CT 06106. pork farm. It is at this very moment when you understand that zoning does indeed have some good implications.

Because much of the Town of Plainville developed before zoning regulations were adopted, there are many nonconforming uses in existence that seem to fly in the face of current zoning regulations. For instance, "What about the machine shop that sits right in the middle of this residential neighborhood?" This is typical of some of the questions we receive in the Plainville Planning and Economic Development Office. In order to better understand the answer to that question, it is first important to know how zoning came about in Plainville.

On August 17, 1942, the Town of Plainville adopted its first zoning regulations. The regulatory framework for zoning in Plainville was authorized by the State of Connecticut through its own prior adoption of governing state statutes. Our state statutes clearly define what towns and cities could and could not do in terms of regulating land use. As time has passed, the statutes have changed

~ Margaret E. Hammer ~

Margaret E. Hammer, 91, of Plainville, died Wednesday, June 17, after a long illness.

Born in Plainville, the daughter of the late Charles and Mary (Fischl) Hammer, she was a lifelong Plainville resident. She was employed for many years as secretary to the president New Britain Machine. Margaret was a longtime parishioner of Our Lady of Mercy Church and a member of the Austrian Donau Singing Society.

Margaret is survived by her close friends, Peter, Robert and Karen Kummer, of New Britain. She was predeceased by two brothers, John F. Hammer and Carl Hammer, and a sister, Helen and her husband Walter Sinkiewicz.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held at Our Lady of Mercy Church. Burial followed in St. Mary Cemetery, New Britain.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Donau Club Scholarship Fund, 545 Arch St., New Britain, CT 06052. Margaret's family and friends thank the staff at the Alzheimer's Resource Center in Plantsville for their care and compassion toward Margaret.

significantly in response to precedent setting legal decisions and legislative initiatives. Plainville's zoning regulations have had to change with the times as well. It is those very changes that help to answer the question of nonconforming uses - how they originated and why they remain.

Let's consider the example of a machine shop in a residential zone. Inconsistent to say the least, and possibly (although not necessarily) disruptive to the quiet and peaceful enjoyment of the residential neighbors. So why is it allowed to remain? Simply put, because it was there before zoning regulations existed. The same state statutes that empower the Town of Plainville to adopt zoning regulations and regulate uses within those zones also protect existing nonconforming uses that existed before any regulations, or change in regulations, were adopted. So the machine shop is an existing nonconforming structure/use and zoning law gives that nonconformity a vested right to continue that can't be forcibly taken away.

Summer Hazards for Pets

This should just be a reminder for most of you, but if one person learns something that will keep his or her pet safe and comfortable this summer, we'll be happy.

The biggest danger in the hot weather is the heat itself. Shaded areas are very important for pets that are outside, as is plenty of fresh water. Heat exhaustion can occur when animals are left in the sun, and heat exhaustion can be fatal.

In the summertime, pets, just like children, should never be left in parked cars, even in a shady area. Leaving the windows partially open is not enough to keep the interior of the car from becoming very hot very quickly. On a day that is only 75°, the inside temperature of a parked car can rise to 94° in 10 minutes. If you will be doing errands, leave your pets at home, and avoid the risk of heat exhaustion!

While we're thinking about heat, remember that the pavement gets very hot in the summer sun. Walk your dog as early in the morning and late in the evening as possible to avoid the hottest pavement. And especially if you have a dog with a short nose, keep the walks short, or use a cooling vest to keep your dog from overheating.

In the heat of summer, food can spoil more rapidly. If your pet doesn't finish a serving of wet food at meal time, refrigerate it or throw it away. Also, you will want to be extra careful about how you discard your food scraps. Let's avoid food poisoning for our pets.

Finally, remember that the flea population keeps increasing all summer long, coming to a peak level just before the killing frost in late winter. A single female flea lays about 40 eggs each day. In summer's heat and humidity, an egg can hatch in as little as two days, and the entire development process can be completed in less than two weeks, resulting in approximately 40 more fleas from each female flea every day. Remember that fleas not only drain blood from your pets, but can cause allergic reactions resulting in open sores, and also carry tapeworm.

Ticks are less common in the heat of summer, increasing in numbers in the fall, but they are still around and can carry Lyme disease as well as several other diseases. Play it safe and use a good flea and tick preventative.

Have a Safe and Happy Summer!
