Robert E. Lee, Town Manager's Report to Town Council

Town Council Meeting August 17, 2015

Cooke Street Reconstruction Bids

- Last Thursday, August 11th, five bids were received for the Cooke Street Reconstruction Project. This project includes the repaying of Cooke Street along with the replacement of approximately 1,000 l.f. of sidewalk.
- The low bid was submitted by B&W Paving and Landscaping of Waterford in the amount of $1,140,242. Town staff had estimated the work at $1.2M. B&W has successfully completed similar work for the State, the University of CT and other CT municipalities.
- Town staff is recommending that the Town Council award the Cooke Street Reconstruction Project to B&W Paving and Landscaping of Waterford in the amount of $1,140,242. There is an item under New Business regarding this recommendation. State grants are paying for 100% of the cost of this work.
- If approved, about half the work is expected to be completed this Fall with the remainder being finished next Spring.

Road Work Project Bids

- Town staff is proposing to repave six streets this year as part of the Road Bond Program. Those six streets are: East Fourth Street; Burnside Ave.; Prentice Street; Cornell St.; Dwight St.; and West Broad St.
- Two types of construction methods will be utilized. Three of the streets will be reclaimed. Reclaiming involves pulverizing the existing bituminous roadway surface in the existing base, regrading and installing a new paved surface. The remaining three streets will be milled. Milling is a process that mechanically removes a portion of the road surface and then the road is repaved.
- Both methods will be evaluated after the construction is complete to determine the most efficient methods to be used in the future.
- There are five activities involved with this project namely: grading, milling, paving, utility adjustments and restoration. The contractors for the first three items (grading, milling and paving) were determined by the State Bid Prices.
- Town staff solicited proposals from eight local contractors for the utility adjustments and restoration. Fours proposals were received for each activity. Based upon the proposals received, Town staff is recommending that D&G Contractors of Meriden be awarded the contract for the utility adjustments and WW Manchester Construction of Bristol be awarded the work for the restoration. Both of these contractors have successfully performed work for the Town.

- A bid summary of the proposals received was included in your information package for this evening's meeting.
- Town staff is also recommending that Tilcon be awarded the contract for the paving and grading and Garrity be awarded the contract for the milling based upon the state low bid process.
- There are items under New Business regarding these recommendations. Town staff is requesting the Town Council to waive the bid process for the utility adjustments and restoration in lieu of the four proposals that were received for this work.
- John Bossi, Director of Technical Services is here this evening to answer any questions that you may have regarding the proposed work.
- The total estimate for this work is $257,000.

Connecticut Workforce Partners – Intergovernmental Consortium Agreement

- Plainville is a member of the North Central Connecticut Workforce Development Area managed by the Capital Workforce Partners. Capital Workforce Partners is one of five regional workforce development boards in the State, established under the federal Workforce Investment Act. Its mission is to leverage public and private resources to produce skilled workers for a competitive regional economy in 37 municipalities within North Central CT. A consortium of the region's chief elected officials appoints representatives to the board of directors from the private sector, education, labor and public groups.
- A recent meeting of the Ad-Hoc Committee of Local Area's Chief Elected Officials has recommended changes to the Intergovernmental Consortium Agreement necessary to comply with the Workforce Innovation & Opportunity Act. Both Kathy Pugliese and I participated in this discussion. In order to comply with the federal regulations, each participating municipality must approve a resolution that would allow Plainville to enter into the new Intergovernmental Consortium Agreement.
- There is an item under New Business that would approve the new Intergovernmental Consortium Agreement.

DEEP Discharge Permit – WPC

On July 10, 2015, The Department of Energy
 & Environmental Protection issued a new discharge permit for the wastewater treatment plant. That permit will expire on July 9, 2020. (five years) That permit requires Plainville to complete various items over the next five years including making improvements to the plant to reduce phosphorus by July 9, 2019. (4 years)

- The first step is to retain a consultant for the project by November 6th. Town staff has put together a Request for Qualifications for the Design and Construction of the improvements based upon a previous report issued by Tighe & Bond.
- As the Town Council is the Water Pollution Control Authority for the Plainville responsible for the project, Town staff would like feedback on how you would like us to proceed with the project? One option is to have the Capital Projects Building Committee be responsible for making recommendations to the Town Council as we proceed with the project.
- If this option is chosen, Town staff would coordinate the CPBC assistance in making a recommendation regarding the best consultant to assist the Town with the project.
- Another option is to have the Town Council directly participate in the selection of the consultant and monitor the project. A third option would be to create a separate building committee for this project.
- Town staff is anticipating that interviews for the consultants will occur in mid-September.
- Both Joe Alosso, Plant Superintendent, and I are available to answer any questions that you may have on the requirements of the Discharge Permit.

Turf field Project Update

The Turf Field Committee was formed by the Town Council last year to research and make a recommendation regarding the Turf Filed and Track renovations at the High School. This Committee was made up of representatives from the various youth sports organizations at the elementary, middle school and high school levels. The group also had participation from the athletic director, high school sports coaches and town and school staff responsible for the maintenance of the facility. They have held various meetings over the last eight months and Phil Cox, Chairman of the Turf Field Committee, and other Committee members are here this evening.

Sno-White Staff Wishes All.... A Happy & Safe Labor Day

From the Desk of: Mark DeVoe, EDA Director

The following are excerpts from the report

The Agency's Regular meeting of August 20, 2015 has been cancelled due to a lack of business items. In lieu of a standard report, we offer an expanded view of economic activities thus far this year.

Plainville has gained economic ground since last year. Our primary manufacturers, construction entities, and services and retail industries remain strong. We sense increased confidence, which in turn translates to local business expansion.

Our manufacturing base remains diverse and represents the largest employment sector in Plainville. Employers such as CT Tool and Manufacturing, General Electric, Mott Corporation and Gems Sensors continue to add new product lines, seek new contracts, and diversify their lines.

•Collectively, the four firms above employ 897 as confirmed in early 2015. Carling Technologies employment is up from 100 in 2013 to 145 in 2015. They have introduced a new method of making advanced circuit boards to their Plainville facility and that is the primary reason for the reported growth. Plainville's total manufacturing jobs count was reported at 1,587 in 2014 by the Connecticut Economic Resource Center.

Construction, the trades and mining continues to hold their spot as the second largest employment sector in Plainville at 1,312, again, as reported by CERC (these estimates may vary slightly from DOL estimates). This is largely due to firms such as Tilcon CT, Inc. Manafort Brothers, Inc. was recently listed in the Hartford Business Journal as one of the State's primary construction firms. At 425 employees, they are the largest Plainville contracting firm.

Phoenix Soil is a well-known but new addition to our industrial sector. Phoenix remediates contaminated soil through a heat absorption process approved by the State Department of Energy and Environmental Protection. They currently employ about 20. Once operational, we are told that number should jump to 35 full time employees.

In addition, Gerdau Steel, a multi-national steel fabricator, has signed a 10 year lease at 75 Neal Court. They will support the construction industry in the Northeast by fabricating and shipping structural re-bar assemblies. They plan to employ approximately 40 when the buildout is complete, which we hope will be very soon.

Summit Crane is moving into Plainville (from Bristol). They have leased the former Penske Trucking Center at 19 Sparks Street. Summit Crane is a rigging business and some of its employees have ties to Plainville.

By filling larger vacant spaces such as those mentioned above, Plainville hedges against Grand List "corrosion." We do have one remaining empty industrial building of 180 square feet at 10 New Britain Avenue. It has recently undergone environmental remediation and the State Department of Energy and Environmental Protection has given it a clean bill of health. We continue to work with the owner and the broker to market this location. New growth is equally important and we'll talk about that as well.

Retail, financial and personal services are performing very well. Vacancies in these sectors have diminished. CT Commons is Plainville's premier retail venue and currently 100% full. CT Commons is pondering a possible expansion within the site. We are told that if they garner interest from additional national chains, they will be in to see us for a site plan revision.

A 9,200 square foot Family Dollar Store on Plainville's Route 10 just opened last week. Our downtown recently added two new stores; one a personal service establishment, the other a printing and copying service. These employment sectors, together with health, social services, food service and the accommodation industries, employ another 3,261. In fact, health care employment is expected to climb sharply during the next reporting period due to the addition of a new medical office building leased by the Hospital of Central Connecticut. The owner of the facility is North Mountain Land, LLC (Tomasso). Tomasso is in the early stages of planning for additional medical facilities on the same site. Their property, as well as adjacent land, was awarded State Bioscience Zone designation, which offers lucrative tax advantages for new businesses that build facilities there. The completed project is already in the top 10 taxpayer rankings and has a significant positive effect on our grand list. Significantly, Quinnipiac Endodontics recently penned a ten year lease at the MOB, effectively filling the facility. Our Office worked with the dental firm for over one year to find them a home in Plainville. Quinnipiac Endodontics settled on Plainville as a home and wasn't considering any other out of town options. That they were willing to wait that long for an opportunity to call us home gives one reason to feel a certain sense of pride.

After a commercial development slowdown in 2014 (we saw only 14,140 square feet of commercial space added to the grand list), the Town of Plainville is now experiencing a significant uptick in activity.

We are reviewing plans for a 12,000 square foot processing and distribution facility at 60 Town Line Road. We met with their Attorney August 12, 2015 to discuss options for land mergers versus variance applications. We are also assisting this applicant with State development and job creation incentives.

We are poised to add 43,022 square feet of approved space to the Grand List this year. Construction is already complete on some of the projects, while others may not be completed until 2016. Compared to the 14,140 square foot gain in 2014, that increase signals a boost in confidence for the commercial sector. Worth noting is that all the space mentioned is to support local expansion.

Other areas of opportunity include 311 through 349 New Britain Avenue. At roughly 20 acres, this site is located directly across from CT Commons. After years of deterioration and blight, the property owner has begun environmental remediation, dilapidated buildings have been removed, and the property is being marketed aggressively. We do not believe the property will be developed on speculation, but for the first time in many years, chances of attracting major retail or a mixed use project is finally within reach.

Plainville is also pleased to start planning in earnest for the completion of the Farmington Canal Heritage Trail. The project goal is to connect the trail with towns to the north and south. It has been a long standing goal to complete the multi-use trail through Plainville to garner some of the same economic benefits realized by other communities it serves. Funds have been approved for an in-depth planning study with the primary goal of choosing a final trail alignment. We are told by the funding State Agency (DOT) that once a final trail alignment has been selected and conceptualized in a detailed manner, final design and construction are a high State priority.

Finally, housing remains lackluster as do many areas of CT. We have an inventory of approved home lots although the sentiment we see is that developers do not want to build on speculation. Homes are being constructed at an average rate of less than 15 per year over the last three years. This is in sharp contrast to an imperceptibly low rental vacancy rate.

Watch for our October issue for happenings Downtown Business District on West Main Street New Businesses opening

Good News:

I took a walk over to a new arrival/storefront in our downtown last Friday. While not the restaurant or gift shop I was hoping for, the business is an established one that I hope will stand the test of time.

George David Co., LLC, formerly located on Park Road in West Hartford, moved into their new office on Whiting Street about two weeks ago. They specialize in copier sales and service.

I had a nice conversation with the owner, Uri Seresin and his assistant, Brenda. They are pleased to be here and reported that they are now closer to several of their existing customers. Of course the conversation quickly turned to local restaurants. Always nice to find a common thread of interest with new acquaintances – in this case, food!

DEAR EDITOR,

In July a water main was broken due to that, I had brown water coming in through my pipes. After it was fixed it seemed OK then across the street someone decided to do some excavating. My pictures show that the digging was down to the pipes, again brown water upon calling the water department immediately some of the answers I got were, "We have other things to do" "Open your faucet, close it & put on a hose start draining the water out." 'The brown water is safe on the first day it happened."

I suggested to flush it out through the street. Again "We are not going to do that the Town will not like it." When speaking with the superior, my situation was compared to two days of the street flush excavating was compared to a truck riding over some dirt. He proceeded to tell me what a good person the guy was verified that excavating down to the pipes does not disturb the earth in the mean time, I could not shower, cook, wash clothes for five days. The superior did assure me that I would not get charged for those five days. I ended up hauling buckets, pots and pans of water. Does anyone in this town as a tax payer and resident want your family not to shower, wash clothes, etc. for five days? What would your opinion be?

After five days they flushed the lines, why didn't they do that when I suggested it the first day? Chris Moulson

DEAR EDITOR---

This letter is to endorse Tony Tarasio for Town Council. Tony is a life-long Plainville resident, graduate of Plainville High School, class of 1971. He has one daughter, Jennifer, who also is a Plainville High graduate, class of 1998. With that background, Tony's ties to the Plainville community are as powerful as any. Moreover, he graduated from Central Connecticut State University with a degree in accounting, and was a longtime Treasurer of the Machinist Union, so he has the financial experience necessary to be a budgetary watchdog. The combination of his experience and with his ties to the Town, make him a natural for Councilman. I urge everyone to give him a vote. David Koskoff

Over the two terms I have helped shepherd the town's successes, spoken out and advocated for policies and projects I thought needed change. I am anxious and willing to continue those efforts in a new term.

I have actively represented voters on issues including televised citizen participation at council meetings, protecting taxpayers and town funds during negotiations on the Chung property clean-up, addressing the deteriorating Linden Street School building and how best to respectfully preserve its memory, and pushing for a blight ordinance that addresses properties that have become non-compliant eyesores around our town.

I have taken the time and effort necessary to make sure I understand and respect the balance between budget,

"Name the Paper" Contest

The article below is a re-print from the first "Plainville' Own" publication September 1997 On October 1997 the winner Kathleen Cook gave birth to the "Plainville's Hometown Connection" new name. There were over 125 entries with over 500 suggested names. The peoples response showed great interest in our community news. Judges were Lynn Frigault and Peter Walentukonis.

BIRTH OF "PLAINVILLE'S OWN"

By Helen Bergenty

On January 26th, I was reading the Hartford Courant. In the town news section was a story portraying "The Granby Drummer". the only known all volunteer newspaper in Connecticut.

The next morning I contacted Christie Levandowski, Vice President of the Drummer and she invited me to the next months "Paste Up" session. The idea of a Plainville paper was conceived.

Plainville is known for being a great community for volunteers. We need a town newspaper to inform the residents of our great town and of all the wonderful work the volunteers do for everyone. From little league to the senior citizens.

I was so excited about the thought of the birth of a paper just for Plainville, that one day I asked a friend (Helen Pugliese) to join me on the first visit to the Granby Drummer. As we drove north on Route 10 we chatted all the way about the birth of the paper. We found the Masonic Lodge building without any trouble. As we drove into the parking lot, we noticed the lot was empty. Yes, you guessed it, it wasl false labor. I was so anxious to learn about starting the naner that we arrived a week

We stopped at a local drug store and secured a few copies of their paper and had lunch in Granby, spoke to a few people and returned to Plainville.

Everyone I spoke to about the idea of our own paper, the more excited I got. We checked prices for printing and postage to mail to the 8.054 households in Plainville.

Now we were ready to find the all-volunteer staff. On June 25, 1997, Plainville's own paper was born. had three meetings that day and twenty-two people came forward to man

THIS IS YOUR PAPER, if your organization, church, school, social club, weddings, birth, anniversary or any news you believe the residents of Plainville would enjoy knowing, write it up and submit it to the Co-Editors.

REMEMBER, THIS IS YOUR NEWSPAPER.

The Granby Drummer is 26 years old, Plainville's paper will live a good long life because we too have the best volunteer force around. The paper is born, now we have to name it. See "NAME THE PAPER CONTEST" on the front page.

Michaela Petit's Four O'clock Is Children's State Flower

Sen. Henri Martin joined Dr. William Petit, members and friends of the Petit family, and state legislators for an Aug. 5 ceremony in which Gov. Dannel P. Malloy signed into law a bill establishing Michaela Petit's Four O'Clock as the official children's state flower. The new law honoring the 11-year-old Cheshire home invasion victim paves the way for Connecticut residents to understand Michaela's legacy and her love of helping others. The Four O'Clock was the flower Michaela used to plant with her father. After the 2007 tragedy, the Four O'Clock poked its petals out of the burned-down house's remains. Extra $600K For Demolition of Old Linden St. School

Betty Boukus, State Rep. announced that the school construction law signed by Gov. Malloy includes the $600K for the project. The funds are in addition to the $1.5 million that Rep. Boukus secured for the demolition of the school.

"This was the funding the town needed to move forward with the old Linden Street School project," Boukus said.

She is also working to secure gift money to cover the additional cost of the High School Turf Field. The grant the town received for the field was not enough to do the complete project.

Open Letter To: Supporters of Plainville's Farmers Market

I hope all of you are well and enjoying your summer, which I must say is flying by quickly. I want to thank all of you for your ongoing support and guidance for Plainville's small, but mighty, market.

Four years ago, when I first excepted the offer of getting this market started, I told them that I would commit to two years, it's been four. This has became one of my finest and most memorable challenge and experiences. Each year, myself, the volunteers and our vendors made improvements for this community market.

With this said, this year will be my last market. Lena Pietri, who has been a volunteer for this venue from the very beginning will be overseeing this market as the "market master." Her day job, excluding the summer months, is the Plainville HS Art teacher. I'm sure her creative talents and connections will continue to enhance this venue.

It's been FUN and interesting! Thank you for your support. Take care and please continue giving Lena and the market your ongoing support.

Best Regards, Linda J GarciaFarmers Market of Plainville

Life With Wanda.....

This was a summer to remember. Being it was time for my yearly checkup I figured I might as well get something the way, something that has been bothering me for some time. doctor asked if there had been any changes I told him I had been suffering from heartburn for some time and he suggested I see a specialist in that field. (There is always a specialist in one field or another.) My doctor set up an appointment with a doctor of gastroenterology and off I went. I felt very comfortable as the doctor was a well respected man in his field and received rave reviews, even on Angie's list. A young lady ushered me to an examining room and asked the usual question, took my blood pressure and asked my height. After speaking to the doctor he recommended an upper Endoscopy so as to check my esophagus. He asked what I had been taking for my heartburn and I told him Zantec. He said he would give me a script that was a little stronger until I had my procedure. They always call it a procedure because if they told you they were going to ram a long tube down your throat you would probably run out of the office. It was explained I would go to sleep and when I woke it would be over. He said his nurse would call in the prescription so I could pick it up later that day.

After dinner I went to the drug store and the clerk put a very large bag in the drawer at the drive thru window. I said I was only getting a small bottle of pills but he said the pills were in the bag. When I got home I opened the bag only to find a kit for a Colonoscopy. Now I know why the doctor's nurse who took me to the examining room asked how tall I was, because if the doctor was going to check my esophagus from that end he was going to need a long scope. I called the next day only to find there had been small error. The day of my procedure every thing went great and as the doctor said I went to sleep and when I woke I was in the recovery room with half dozen others as well as the staff, which were very nice I might add.

The nurse served me some juice and asked if I felt I could dress by myself as the sedative might have left me a bit unsteady. I assured her I would be fine and she drew the curtain and said the doctor would be in shortly. I just finished dressing when the doctor asked, from the other side of the curtain, are you dressed yet? "I said yes, but what did you have in mind?" I think I embarrassed him when the entire recovery room broke out in laughter.

Ask the Brayne...

Q. I received a letter from the town about something in my back yard and was told to remove it within a certain number of days or I would be fined. What if I can't do it right away, what should I do?

A. I understand you must write a letter to the Enforcement Officer, William Buden, Town of Plainville, 1 Central Square, Plainville and request an extension with the reason you are unable to abide by the time allotted.

Q. Who published the first Newspaper?

A. The first newspapers were nothing like our papers today. They were more like letters containing news.

In the 5th century B.C. there were men in Rome who wrote these newsletters and sent them to people who lived far away from the capital.

Julius Caesar established something more like our papers of today in 60 B.C.

One of the first newspapers was started in the sixteenth century by the Fuggers, a famous German family of international bankers.

The first regular newspaper established in London was the Intelligencer in 1663.

The "Public Occurrences" was the first American newspaper, was started in Boston in 1690, but the governor of the colony quickly stopped

Benjamin Franklin conducted the Pennsylvania Gazette from 1729 to 1765. The people were so eager to have newspapers that by the time of the American Revolution there were 37 of them being published in

"WAKE UP AMERICA" "Time Is Running Out" Why should you oppose Agenda 21?

It's important to note that we fight Agenda 21 because we oppose its policies and its process, not just its origins. Why do we see it as a threat? Isn't it just a plan to protect the environment and stop uncontrolled development and sprawl?

The fact is, you fight Agenda 21 because it is all encompassing, designed to address literally every aspect of our lives. This is so because those promoting Agenda 21 believe we must modify out behavior, our ways of doing every day things, and even our belief system, in order to drastically transform human society into being "sustainable."

The United States has never been part of a global village in which some self-appointed village elders have handed down rules for life. We are a nation of laws that were designed to protect our right to our property and our individual life choices while keeping government reined in. We oppose Agenda 21 precisely because it represents the exact opposite view of government.

Excerpts from Patriot Grass Roots Newspaper, Volume 6, Edition 3-9:

"There is for you an excellent example to follow in Abraham and those with him when they said to their people, "We are clear of you and of whatever ye worship besides Allah; we have rejected you, and there has arisen, between us and you, enmity and hatred forever, unless ye believe in Allah and him alone." Qur'an 60:4 (Koran)

Islamic distaste for unbelievers is a constant of Islamic history and persists today. The Muslim Brotherhood warns any more meddling in Middle East, and they won't send any more Presidents.

Why is the President encouraging school to teach the Qur'an?

Why not teach the Bible and Christian prayers and salute the American flag?

EMT, Attack (Electromagnetic pulse). This is not just science fiction.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt once said, "The only thing we have to fear is fear itself." In a world wracked by terrorism, that carries even more meaning today. FDR spoke those words in 1933; the threat was the economic and social impact of the Great Depression. Today, it's the always-present threat of terrorist attacks that provokes deep-seated fear among Americans - with the target being our society and our freedoms. (By Gene Policinski, Record Journal, July 13, 2015)

Common Core: Beware of those calling for tax-funded school choice via vouchers, and they know exactly what they're doing. However, they fail to tell you that, "WHAT THE GOVERNMENT FUNDS, THE GOVERNMENT CONTROLS!" Do you get it? The goal of this rotten government control of all education is about eliminating any and all private, religious, or home-schooled education. With one cent of tax money going to a private, religious, or home schooled child comes all the regulations and control of the federal government!"

Tea Party Patriots stand for every American and is home to millions who have come together to pursue the American dream and keep the dream alive!!! (www.teapartypatriot.org)

"I predict future happiness for Americans, if they can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people under the pretense of taking care of them." (Thomas Jefferson)

Attention: The Tea Party Patriots Rally is held the 1st and 3rd Tuesday of every month from 5:00 - 6:00 PM on Queen Street, Southington, in front of Starbucks, Exit 32 off I-84.

Nurturing Friendships

"Let us be grateful to people who make us happy, they are the charming gardeners who make our souls blossom."...Marcel Proust

A seed or seedling can be thought of as a casual acquaintance, a potential friend who through time and care becomes a good friend. Seedlings perish from lack of attention. New friendships are equally fragile. They must be coaxed along to thrive. Tried and true long-term friendships, just like your favorite perennials, also require constant nurturing, or they will gradually fade from neglect.

I often talk to my plants. Does it help them...or only me? In the case of my friends, I know it definitely does wonders for both of us. Sharing thoughts, ideas, hopes, and disappointments is like fertilizer. It restores and enhances our relationship. However, the real trick, using the correct fertilizers, mulch, and whatever, is in really listening and paying attention to what your friend is saying and responding appropriately. Do their words match their mood and body language? Are they trying to be all sunshine and flowers when they are really in an emotional storm? Can you tell the difference? Can you continue a conversation and friendship when you have, perhaps, radically different opinions?

Plant life is simple. There are species which grow well together to their mutual advantage. They are symbiotic. There are others like some vines that strangle the life out of their hosts or smother them. These are often very aggressive; the mild one stands no chance. These are parasites.

Climate is equally important in the plant kingdom. Rain forest and swampland plants cannot abide in an arid place. Cactus and other species which need very little moisture will simply give up the ghost if transplanted to a wet place.

People are different. They can be uprooted and survive, some more happily than others. Some gardens, like some neighborhoods are basically variations of one color or one species. They can be lovely in their own way. Other gardens and neighborhoods are a riot of color, shape, and form. They appear to be hodge-podge of whatever the gardener finds appealing. Often small neighborhoods are like the monochromatic garden made up of people with the same history, language, extended families from the same country. They can be peaceful and supportive, or, they can become insular and critical of anyone "not like us". The multifaceted neighborhoods, like the riotous garden, are vibrant and exciting. However, all are ultimately composed of single individuals reaching out to one another for comfort, pleasure and friendship.

Whatever your style of nurturing, be bold about it!. Every new acquaintance may become a friend.

My Reasons for Running......

Rick Broderick 11, Candidate for Town Council

"Now, there's one thing you might have noticed I don't complain about: politicians. Everybody complains about politicians. Everybody says they suck. Well, where do people think these politicians come from? They don't fall out of the sky. They don't pass through a membrane from another reality. They come from American parents and American families, American homes, American schools, American churches, American businesses and American universities, and they are elected by American citizens. This is the best we can do folks. This is what we have to offer. " -George Carlin

After receiving a standing ovation from the General Assembly, that I've been quite critical of, I'm tying to take more of a level approach toward the behavior of our government, and the decisions they make on our behalf.

Speaking for myself is the reason I choose the Petitioning Candidate line. In allowing my name to be attached to a letter to the editor turned white paper mentioned in a local paper, I learned an important lesson about my message and voice, in asking for the opportunity to be elected to the Town Council this fall. What was to be an introduction of 6 individuals running for Town Council, became something I don't support.

I have my own white paper similar to last fall's statewide edition, which has my own ideas and reasons for why I'm running for Town Council. It's my intention to get that pamphlet to every door in Plainville. I hope to start canvassing the last weekend of August.

If you're interested in assisting in this effort, or to follow along on where I'll be walking this fall, visit my website www.Rickbroderick22ct.com, and leave a message. You will also find surveys seeking your input about issues around town. A survey won't take any more than 2 minutes of your time.

As the only person with a functioning website, I am attempting to be accessible and give you the chance to have a voice, even when you don't have the free time to attend town meetings, or be as involved as you may want. I can't be sure that I'm looking out for your best interests without a little input and feedback from the Last year, you could only choose one person between myself, Representative Boukus, and, Councilwoman Plugliese. This year, I'm 1 out of 16 people, asking for 1 of the 7 seats available.

I look forward continuing to meeting more of the citizens over the next few months and hope this fall's experience will be as insightful and enjoyable as last fall was.

AAA Speaks Out:

Seniors Who Give Up Keys Are Driven To Depression

Older adults who have stopped driving are almost two times more likely to suffer from depression and nearly five times as likely to enter a long-term care facility as those who remain behind the wheel, according to a new report released by the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety and Columbia University.

The study examined older adults who have permanently given up driving and the impact it has on their health and mental well-being.

The importance of understanding the effects this lifestyle change has on older adults is essential, as the number of drivers aged 65 and older continues to increase in the United States, with more than 80 percent of them still behind the wheel.

"The decision to stop driving, whether voluntary or involuntary, appears to contribute to a variety of health problems for seniors, particularly depression as social circles are greatly reduced," says Peter Kissinger, President and CEO of the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety.

With this in mind, the AAA-Allied Group here in Connecticut provides Mature Drivers Assessments and recommendations to insure the safety and well-being of senior drivers and others with whom they share the road.

The AAA Foundation's report on Driving Cessation and Health Outcomes for Older Adults examined declines in general health and physical, social, and cognitive functions in former drivers. With the cessation of driving, the study found:

- Diminished productivity and low participation in daily life activities outside of the home;
- Risk of depression nearly doubled;
- 51 percent reduction in the size of social networks over a 13-year period;
- Accelerated decline in cognitive ability over a 10-year period; and former
- Five times as likely to be admitted to a long term care facility.

"Maintaining independence by continuing to drive safely is important to overall health and well-being. When the decision is made to relinquish the keys, it is vital to mitigate the potential negative effects through participation in programs that allow seniors to remain mobile and socially connected," said Kissinger.

For more information on the AAA Mature Drivers Assessment or other programs and transportation options for seniors visit http://SeniorDriving.AAA.com or call Steve Rourke at the Driving School (860-570-4361).

As North America's largest motoring and leisure travel organization, AAA provides more than 55 million members with travel, insurance, financial and automotiverelated services. Since its founding in 1902, the not-for-profit, fully tax-paying AAA has been a leader and advocate for the safety and security of all travelers. AAA clubs can be visited on the Internet at AAA.com.

Are you noticing more frequent neck stiffness and pain, headaches, vertigo or dizziness? Could be the air conditioning!

Seeking to stay comfortable this summer, we are using the air conditioner for longer periods of time. The muscles in the back of the head, into the shoulders and shoulder blades along with the muscles in the front of your neck can send referred pain to other areas of your body. These muscles can tighten as the cooler air is circulating around us. Prolonged contraction leads to trigger points or "knots" in the muscles.

Referred pain patterns can be located on the face, jaw, and arm. So be mindful of the air flow and the environment. Wear a light sweater to prevent the chill, which can cause the slight but steady muscle contraction leading to the trigger points. Stretching throughout the day will allow adequate blood flow to the muscles preventing the trigger points.

Summer Lessons

Would you jump into a spider web on purpose? How about if it sits 3 stories high and the view is spectacular? What if you could do so safely?

To back up, I had the pleasure of experiencing a brand new exhibit called the Wild Walk at the Wild Center in Tupper Lake, New York this summer. http:// www.wildcenter.org This is a first of its kind walk way that transports visitors high into the tree tops to experience the view from the perspective of the wildlife that make their home in places we can't easily reach. And yes, I did jump into the makeshift spider web. It was fun!

The entrance to this walk is intentional. There is a balance log, a swing and other playful items. You are encouraged to play first – to slowly transition from whatever is going on with you to a childlike state. You begin to relax; you smile, laugh and remember what it is like when the focus is on fun. These small little pauses at the start of this walk make a big difference on how you experience the rest of the exhibit. Instead of walking mindlessly and hurriedly through; you stop, you see and you enjoy. Isn't that what summer and vacation time is all about? To leave behind the worries, the responsibilities and to take in simple pleasures – even for a day or an hour or a moment.

It makes me wonder about entrances to work or school and how they can shape the transition to our day. Does it invite creativity or does it signal stress or dullness or heaviness. How about the entrance to our homes?

Summer vacations may be over, but you might want to carry over this feeling of playfulness and letting go throughout the year. Try this simple exercise anytime you feel you are so immersed in projects that you can no longer think clearly. Close your eyes. Follow your breathing – for at least 10 breaths. Pay attention to the air coming in, your nostrils opening, and your shoulders relaxing. Nothing else should matter for this brief period of time. Now open your eyes and look around as if you were experiencing the space you are in for the first time. What do your notice? How do you feel? Get up, move for at least a minute and then resume what you were doing.

This simple exercise can be done anytime, anywhere and can make a big difference to your day. It can make you more productive, more awake and aware of how you are feeling, your surroundings and what you need to support your body and mind during times of stress.

Each season brings special gifts. Summer is a fun, high activity time. We enjoy fresh, delicious garden foods and spending time with friends. We get our share of vitamin D from the sun. The long days provide more opportunities to be outdoors, to walk, ride bikes or just sit and enjoy a sunset.

Fall brings us the chance to slow down a little and begin to get more grounded. We transition to more time indoors, to warmer foods and root vegetables. We find pleasure in noticing the changing beauty of the trees, the crispness of the air or perhaps the settling down to "back to school" activities.

What new things do you want to add into your life this fall? Could you plan a hayride, a hike, attend some fairs or fall farmer's markets? Are there classes you want to take? Do you want to learn how to do things more efficiently on your computer, join a book club, or take a cooking class? Recognizing the new opportunities of the season change can be invigorating.

Is it time to incorporate more healthy habits to your lifestyle? Here are 5 steps to start you on this path:

- Drink more water. Add lemon if you don't like plain water. Drink two glasses of water for each cup of coffee or alcohol you drink to counter their dehydrating effects.
- Move for at least 30 minutes/day, 5 days a week. Get a pedometer. Look for opportunities to move and track your steps. If 30 minutes is too much, start with 10 minutes. Just start to move more.
- Avoid white, starchy carbs. Replace white rice and white potatoes with brown rice, quinoa or sweet potatoes or just add more green vegetables to your plate
- Change your portions. Use a smaller plate and eat slower. By taking time to eat and enjoy your food, you will actually notice when you are full and eat less.
- Focus on your breath. Take mini vacations each day to clear your mind and notice opportunities to make healthier choices.

Fall back in love with your life and experience the season with new eyes and new awareness.

"I.T. Jim's" Tech News & Notes

With another summer coming to a close, here are a few tech news stories you should know about. Windows 10 is out!

Windows 10 was made available on July 29th. If you have Windows 7 or Windows 8.1 the upgrade is free. If your computer is up to date with Windows updates, you should have seen a new icon near your clock. If you would like to upgrade, click on this icon and reserve your upgrade. Once that is done, the program will check to make sure your computer is ready for Windows 10. If it is ready, it will download the upgrade and then let you know when it is ready. Before proceeding with the upgrade, back up your files to an external drive, USB stick, or online storage. Then, just follow the instructions provided and you will soon be upgraded. During the installation process you are given a chance to Customize Settings or Use Express Settings. I suggest choosing to customize settings and choosing your security details. See next paragraphs about security issues. So far there have not been any major issues. The upgrade process is smooth and the tool Microsoft provides generally will not upgrade your computer if it's not ready to be upgraded.

There has been some concern about the security of Windows 10, but it is really unfounded. There is some new wording in the EULA (End User License Agreement) that states that Microsoft will scan your files and share non-personally identifiable information with others. It wall also share with authorities as required by law. This wording applies only to files that are stored online using Microsoft OneDrive cloud storage. Microsoft will NOT share any information stored on your computer.

There is also a new feature in Windows 10 called WiFi Sense. If you choose, Microsoft will automatically connect your contacts, Facebook friends, and Skype contacts to your WiFi or connect you to your friends WiFi if they allow it. You must check a box to share your WiFi. It will not share automatically. It also connects you automatically to open WiFi networks other Windows users have connected to. I suggest turning the Open WiFi autoconnect off. For the most part, this is all safe and you have control over when things can or cannot

I've been using Windows 10 at home and at work for several months now and it is a great update. Especially for Windows 8 users that do not like the way Windows 8 works.

Android Smartphone Security

In August it was revealed that there are some vulnerabilities in Google's Android operating system that runs on Samsung, Motorola, HTC, and other smartphones. The one causing the most concern is called Stagefright. Google is working to patch things up. But you should be careful about what you are doing on your Android phone. Make sure your apps are getting updated. On newer phones they are automatically updated. Get yourself a security app for your smartphone. I use one called Lookout. It scans your apps and does its best to protect you. Do not install any apps that are not coming from the Google Play Store. In the Play Store, only install mainstream apps from "reputable" businesses like Amazon, Facebook, Twitter, Zynga, Xfinity, etc.

New Phones are Coming

A new round of phones from the major players are out or coming out in the next month or so. The smartphone market has matured. Apple has the iPhone, Samsung has the Galaxy and Note, Motorola has the Moto X and Moto G, HTC has the One, LG has the G4. All of them are worthy devices that work well. The choice is yours based on your comfort with them. With the exception of iPhone, the prices for these phones is coming down.

Verizon Ends Contracts

Verizon announced in August that it will no longer offer contracts and subsidized cost phones.

This is good because the major carriers have all ended the use of contracts. Either you must buy your phone outright or use a payment plan offered by the carrier. This gives you the freedom to change carriers or keep your phone for as long or as short as you want. As mentioned, the prices of most phones are dropping. Phones that used to cost $500-$750 can be had for as little as $179 with no contract. Motorola's new Moto G starts at $179. Used phones are also available from sources like gazelle.com that can save you money. The resulting plans from the major carriers are a bit less expensive. I switched my Verizon account from Family Share to the new plan made available in August and saved $15 per month and went from 2GB to 3GB of data per month.

From My Balcony

By: Jeannette Hinkson

We are again bombarded with candidate running for the office of the President of the United State's. We have a business man and a business woman, a doctor and a number of Politicians that have held office for a number of years and done nothing. The politicians say vote for them, make them President and they will solve all the problem. To them I say, "You fellows have been in office for years and look at the fix we are in." The taxpayers have supported them for all those years and will continue supporting them the rest of their lives and they haven't helped us and I don't think they will.

We have a former Sec. of State, that by all accounts has done nothing, she or anyone else can name. Her foundation has taken money from foreign countries under the guise of charity and still doesn't think Benghazi was a problem. Can this woman be in her right mind and should we take a chance on any politician? Take a look on the Federal, State and local level government, how are these people serving you? They all say they are going to lower taxes and make things better. Take a look around we have been promised the moon and it seems they have mooned us. Voters have gone to the polls and voted for something and when those, we put in office didn't get their way the voters were called stupid and said the voters didn't read the question on the ballot and they are going to do what they want anyway. So many things are done in the back room I wonder why they even hold open to the public council meetings. Maybe it is the law and they have to cover their butt. I spoke to one man that is driving a twenty-one year old car and the taxes on it went up. When he questioned the increase he was told it was now a classic. On the state level we were told during the last election the state had a surplus of funds, so vote for the Governor as he was doing a great job. Now this same Governor wants to put a mileage tax on the people of the state because he needs the money to run the state government. Don't we already pay a road tax on every gallon of gas we buy? Is this double dipping? That old joke about how do you know if a politician is lying? The answer is: His lips are moving! When you go to the polls, before you vote stop and think, how are the people you put in office doing? Do they listen to the people or laugh at them behind their backs? Some

I want to touch on something I know has been on all our minds recently and that is the overturning of the death penalty of the two scumbags that took the lives of Mrs. Petit and her beautiful daughters. When the House of Representatives, including our own State Representative from right here in Plainville, voted to abolish the death penalty with the exception of these two men. We all knew some lawyer would get them off because you can't single out the two from the rest, and sure enough it has been done. Are these people proud of their vote today? Shame on you, you don't represent us or the Petit woman you pander to your own party. If it was your family how would you have voted? I guess their lives didn't matter in your book. Shame..... Voter's: Perhaps you might rethink your vote and clean house?

On Tuesday morning, Deacon Robert Berube and I were invited to Ability Beyond Disability, an outreach program for handicapped young adults who for over 62 years, has led the field in supporting people with disabilities, by providing person-centered, cuttingedge, and cost-effective services to the Central Connecticut Region of Connecticut.

Deacon Berube, A local Catholic Deacon serving at Our Lady of Mercy Church, in his presentation, emphasized to the thirty plus handicapped individuals at class that morning, that having a disability of any magnitude does not prevent anyone from leading a complete and wholesome life. In his personal testimony, Dcn. Berube explained the trials he has experienced beginning at eight years old, was struck by a car full of nuns while crossing a street in his home town of Fall River, Massachusetts. This accident resulted in a broken left femur requiring two surgeries and nine months in a total body cast. After removal of cast, the parents of young Robert were told that it was not likely he would ever compete in sports or walk without a limp. He informed the class that anything is possible with the will to succeed. He went on to letter in track in high school.

Also, as a result of that accident he suffered complete loss of hearing in one ear. By example he suggested that everyone present cover just one ear. He then covered his only good ear and spoke. He asked them if the could hear what he said. They all answered of course. He then said, "I could not hear what I just said to you". This really made an impression on the group because he reminded these students how much we all take for granted in the use of our senses.

Later in his dissertation, Dcn. Berube commented on the impediments of having been declared legally blind resulting from diabetic retinopathy. Having been legally blind since the age of 59, Deacon Berube has relied on the kindness of family and friends for transportation. His comment was, "I cannot go anywhere without my wife" of course because she dives and he does not!

Everyone was grateful to hear the success story of someone who is handicapped and has not 'quit' and felt sorry for themselves. It was inspirational, many attendees commented.

Deacon Berube and Mrs. Bergenty, the editor of The Hometown Connection were thanked by Clint Zicari, Career Learning Specialist for Ability Beyond Disability for their contribution to today's workshop.

As an introduction to this great developmental program, they offered the following description of their program.

"Resulting in over 2,500 people benefiting from our services across two states, which's size, scope, and experience motivate our dedicated personnel to further development of creative new technologies and approaches to care for people with disabilities, we continue our efforts".

Recognized nationally for the most current and best advanced practices, our program structure has been adopted by organizations around the country to serve thousands more people at the state and national

On a National basis, Kris Foss representative of Ability Beyond Disability (Solutions), Ability Beyond's corporate consulting practice, is featured in Forbes today. Companies like Pepsi and American Express are working with us in hiring individuals with disabilities as simply good business

This is the fourth consecutive year that Deacon Berube has contributed his time and inspiration to this local group.

"We are very thankful for his words of encouragement, it is with the efforts of community supporters, that we continue to succeed," said Clint Zacari, local instructor.

NEW DUI LAW IN CONNECTICUT

This July 1st the Connecticut law concerning Driving under the Influence changed. The change in the law mandated an increase in using ignition interlocking devices for those who have their licenses suspended due to driving under the influence. This article will take a look at what the law was before July 1st and what it is now.

First, DUIs in Connecticut are subject to both criminal and administrative review. Licenses may be suspended under either division's review. The change in the law primarily addressed the administrative side so that it mirrors the criminal suspension guidelines, but with more definitiveness. This article highlights the penalties for a driver over 21 years of age with no prior DUI convictions and/or suspensions.

Prior to July 1, 2015, any arrest pursuant to C.G.S. §14-227 Driving under the Influence was subject to varying degrees of license suspension, if the accused was subject to a negative decision from the DMV. For first time suspensions the varying degrees were: ninety days, if such person submitted to a test or analysis and the results of such test or analysis indicated that such person had an elevated blood alcohol content, one hundred twenty days, if such person submitted to a test or analysis and the results of such test or analysis indicated that the ratio of alcohol in the blood of such person was sixteen-hundredths of one per cent or more of alcohol, by weight, or six months if such person refused to submit to such test or analysis. For subsequent suspensions the penalties are increased as outlined within the statute.

After July 1, 2015, any arrest pursuant to C.G.S. §14-227 Driving under the Influence is subject to a flat forty-five day suspension and a required period of time using the ignition interlocking device. For a first time negative decision from the DMV, the accused will be required to have the ignition interlocking device for six months. For a second suspension, one year with the ignition interlocking device and third/subsequent suspension it's two years with the ignition interlocking device. For a refusal to submit to chemical analysis: First suspension, one year with device, second suspension, two years with device and third/subsequent suspension, three years with device.

The legislature is clearly making a push towards driver accountability, not just punishment. Whether or not this change in the law will provide such accountability is yet to be determined. Most people hear of ways to get around the device's safeguards so that a driver may still be impaired driving an automobile outfitted with the device. Obviously nothing is perfect, but the general public would be hard pressed to find a way around paying all of the associated costs for these devices. Certainly, the expense is another penalty to deter drunk driving.

Attorney Thomas A. Wurz is an associate of his father Attorney Theodore J. Wurz, LLC in the law office of Attorney Richard Witt at 132 East Street. Attorney Wurz is a graduate of Avon Old Farms School in 2001, Providence College in May 2005 on the Dean's list and Juris Doctor Program at Western New England College School of Law in May 2009. Comp-U-Signs Celebrates 30 Years in Business 1985-2015

It seems like only yesterday!

We bought our first Vinyl Cutting Machine & sign making program in 1985. With some sign making knowledge & artistic background, we started our business in the basement of our house.

We owned a local restaurant here in Plainville which we worked at full time. Through that business, we met many local contractors & business owners, who were just beginning their businesses & were in need of signage. That was the beginning of Comp-U-Signs.

We started making small signs & manufacturing vehicle graphics for their businesses. As word of mouth spread & time passed, we outgrew our basement. We moved to a storefront on Whiting Street in 1987. We were finally able to put up our own sign and dive full force into the sign making business.

We remained at that location until late 1988 when we moved to our present location, on East Main Street. As our business grew, our knowledge of the sign industry grew as well. Purchasing new equipment & programs brought us into the digital age.

Today we remain a small hometown business, with the ability to manufacture signs & graphics for many diverse projects, small & large. We offer digital prints & vinyl graphics for vehicles, business signage, storefronts, contractor's projects signs, architectural & ADA signs, banners & much more. While our client base has grown many of our original clients

Cousin Mary the Pied Piper

By: Sally Miller

Well, we had our family reunion again this year. As I was visiting from table to table, I noticed that one table had piles of candy and it was surrounded by children. I immediately knew where that candy came from. My amazing cousin Mary Rattley, was the only one who would have put that candy out for the children. She is like the Pied Piper for children and adults alike. Mary looks like my Mom and I love her because we seem to have a special connection.

Mary is over 80 years old now but as I watch her walk around with her cane, she becomes 20 years old again as she stops every few minutes and dances to the music that is playing. She holds onto her cane and shakes her hips. She has a spark in her eye that is mischievous and she has a heart of gold.

My first recollection of Mary's generosity, especially when it comes to children, was when I was in my early 20's. I drove to Bridgeport to visit her and the family. When I walked into the house, she had a cheesecake, waiting for me. She was famous for her cheesecake but I didn't know how famous she was for her generosity and caring for all children. Mary had an in the ground pool and she mentioned that we could go into the pool later in the afternoon. I let her know that I had not brought a bathing suit and she said, "don't worry, we'll find you something".

After lunch and visiting with her we decided to get into the pool for a while. I followed her to a closet to get a bathing suit for me. We walked into the living room where she opened a closet with many shelves. The closet was filled with an array of beautifully colored bathing suits. I couldn't seem to comprehend what I was looking at. Why in the world would she store a closet with that many bathing suits?

Mary then explained that she lived in the vicinity of Father Panik Village in Bridgeport. At that time, it was considered the most impoverished and dangerous housing project in the country. A lot of the children in the village had no means to buy bathing suits and find transportation to a pool. But these children (most with only 1 parent and not much hope) knew of one light in their life. Mrs.Mary Rattley. Mary not only invited them to come to her pool, but she taught them protocol, how to swim and how to get along with one another. They were devoted to her and loved her. She taught them that they could not swim unless they followed the rules. Each child remained disciplined just so that they could swim in Mary's pool.

After we closed the closet, she opened another door and I saw gigantic jars of peanut butter and jelly, Mary bought the swimming suits at Goodwill and Salvation Army stores and bought the peanut butter and jelly whole sale and on sale. After swimming, each child was given a peanut butter and jelly sandwich with a glass of Kool-Aid. She would have many children in the morning and the rest in the afternoon. These children had unforgettable memories because one person took the time to care. As I look back at that day, I also wonder as to how many lives she saved by taking the time to teach children to swim or simply by knowing someone cared that much for them. Years later, it was estimated that Mary had taught several hundred children to swim. Bless you Cousin Mary. You are appreciated and so loved. I am proud to call you my cuz. Just a note. It does take a village to raise a child and sometimes it just takes one person who cares to make a difference.

Why Has Jesus Not Come?

Because Jesus has not yet come as the Bible has promised some people would like to think that He will never come. The Bible has predicted that some would think this way. Listen to 2 Peter 3:3 "Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own lusts, and saying, Where is the promise of his coming? For since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation." The Apostle Peter points out in verses 5 & 6 that all things have not continued as they were from the beginning of the creation.

Approximately 1600 years after God's creation God destroyed the world with a global flood which changed everything! And there is another judgment coming according to verse 7. Well, Jesus came to earth nearly 2000 years ago, died on the cross and rose again the third day and ascended to heaven 40 days after His resurrection. He told His disciples the evening before His arrest in John 14:3 "And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself, that where I am, there ye may be also." Well, it has been nearly 2000 years and He has not come.

Why not? Thank you for asking!

Take a look at 2 Peter 3:9 for here we have the answer. "The Lord is not slack [lazy] concerning his promise, as some men count slackness, but is long suffering toward us, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance." Jesus has not come yet because He doesn't want any to perish in hell but be saved. That is why He has waited for nearly 2000 years. He is long suffering but His long suffering will not last forever.

> He is coming and it could be today..... Are you ready? Are you saved?

ST. JOSEPH CEMETERY, PLAINVILLE

Do you own a burial plot in St. Joseph's? We are requesting that you provide us with the name, address and phone number of whom you would like to leave your burial rights to upon your death. The reason being that if you have any open grave plots, we need someone to inform the office as to whom can be buried there. The Office requests a follow up letter in writing, which can be sent from the owner to the office at Our Lady of Mercy Church, 19 South Canal St., Plainville, CT 06062. The Office will keep this letter on file so it has proof as to whom the next "owners" will be. Also if you have a two-grave plot to accommodate two caskets, three cremains can be buried on top of each plot. If you have a side by side plot, six cremains can be buried on your grave plot. If the owner allows that to take place, we need to know to whom you are leaving the burial rights to so that they can make those decisions. Again a letter needs to be sent to the same office. For more information and answers to questions, please do not hesitate to call the Cemetery Office at 860.747.6825. We appreciate your attention to this matter.

ALL LIFE IS PRECIOUS! To celebrate the children in the womb within our community, as well as their parents and family, we will be celebrating the new Rite for the Blessing of a Child in the Womb here at Our Lady of Mercy. The celebration will take place during the 10:30 Mass on Sunday, October 4th, and includes a special blessing of the children in the womb and all those present following the Homily. According to the US Conference of Catholic Bishops, "Such a blessing sustains the parents by imparting grace and comfort in time of concern and need, unites the parish in prayer for the unborn child, and fosters respect for human life within society." If you are interested in receiving this special blessing for your unborn child, please contact the Parish Office, 860-747-6825.

PLAINVILLE LIONS RECEIVES SURPRISE SCHOLARSHIP DONATION

The Plainville Lions had a very pleasant surprise this past May when they received a check in the amount of $1000 to be donated to their scholarship fund. The donor stated "this June will mark the 50th anniversary of my graduation from Plainville High School. It will also mark the 50th anniversary of my receipt of one of four college scholarships which the Plainville Lions Club awarded that year." The donor stated that the funds are sent with "renewed gratitude for all the work that your fine organization has done and continues to do for the town of Plainville and its citizens." The amount we received was considerably more than what the donor was awarded fifty years ago.

The scholarship fund was established 65 years ago by Lion Stanley E. Sherman and Lion Herman E. Papenforth. These two Lions started a trust fund that was only to be used to provide Plainville students scholarships for higher education. Since then many persons have contributed to the fund which has grown considerably. The only monies from the fund that can be used is the interest earned, therefore allowing us to be able to award scholarships in perpetuity.

This year we were able to award five scholardhips totaling $6000. Our scholarship night was on May 20th and each student brought two guests. Our guest speaker was Detective David Posades who spoke on Computer Fraud and the pitfalls of social media.

"Party in Pink Campaign" Annual Zumba Convention in Orlando, Florida ~ Paula Jacobs, the Poster Girl's Story ~

The points I want this article to focus on is me moving on even though cancer landed in my lap.

Being a local Zumba instructor who always felt giving back was important. Being diagnosed after an annual mammogram and fighting the fight with my students.

Getting back to teaching as soon as I was able. Getting involved in local relay for life's (Plainville, and Southington. Speaking at both and doing the Zumba)

Running my first 5k for Susan G Komen in Hartford on the same day as the Relay for Plainville (dedication).

I was chosen to be part of Zumba's Party in Pink National campaign. The trip was to Miami, and being asked to return in August for the 2015 Zumba Corp convention.

The Zumba Corp coming to CT to film my life for a mini documentary. Reminding people that I have no cancer in my family and I never thought I would get breast cancer.

Be pro-active, it does save your life

A Selfie --Paula and her supporters at a Relay for Life event

Paula With Beto Perez

Paula was a speaker at both the Southington and Plainville Relays for Life this year. Also, in May she received an email from Zumba Corp stating that they had been following her online as she battled cancer and had chosen her as one of 4 women nationwide to be flown to Miami in June for 3 days to meet the creator of Zumba Fitness, Beto Perez and have a photo shoot and that they would be dancing in zumba video that would be for this years "Party in Pink Campaign" against Breast Cancer. She went to Miami and had the most amazing three days of her life. She, along with the other survivors were invited back to Orlando this past week as VIP guests at the Annual Zumba Convention where they would unvail the video which was made to bring awareness to Breast Cancer. Upon her arrival, she was overwhelmed by the huge billboards that were everywhere with her face on them! These women were, afterall, the faces of Zumba and the fight against cancer!! The video will be televised in 180 countries!! I hope this true story of a survivor will help others with the battle with cancer.

Why we use a Mouthwash?

Mouthwash has a variety of uses, from freshening breath to preventing tooth decay. Swishing daily with mouthwash can help you maintain great oral health by killing the germs and bacteria that linger in your mouth and between your teeth. Learn more about the various types of mouthwash and how you can use them to improve your overall oral health.

What is mouthwash?

Mouthwash, also known as mouth rinse, is an oral hygiene product that you can use in addition to brushing and flossing. Generally, these oral rinses are classified as cosmetic, therapeutic, or a combination of both. Cosmetic mouthwashes can remove oral debris, temporarily suppress bad breath, and refresh the mouth with a pleasant taste. In addition to these benefits, therapeutic mouthwashes—including antiseptic, anti-plaque, and anti-cavity formulas—include ingredients to protect against oral disease. Antiseptic and anti-plaque mouthwashes can kill the germs that cause plaque, gingivitis, and bad breath, while anti-cavity formulas use fluoride to prevent and reduce tooth decay.

What are the benefits of mouthwash?

Research shows that using a germ-killing mouthwash in addition to brushing your teeth can reduce plaque and gingivitis more than brushing alone. Additionally, anti-cavity mouthwashes with fluoride have been clinically proven to fight up to 50 percent more of the bacteria that cause cavities. However, cosmetic mouthwashes that aren't formulated to kill germs do not provide these cavityfighting benefits.

How do I usemouthwash?

First, make sure that you brush and floss your teeth well. Your teeth should be as clean as possible in order to reap the full benefits of your mouthwash. Once you're ready to rinse, measure the proper amount as specified on the container, or as instructed by yourdentist. With your lips closed and yourteeth apart, swish the liquid around your mouth. Many formulas suggest swishingfor 30 seconds or more. Finally, thoroughly spit the liquid from your mouth. If you're using an anti-cavity mouthwash, do not rinse, eat, or smoke for 30 minutes after use. Otherwise, you'll dilute the fluoride and rinse it away. If you smoke, consider asking your dentist or physician for advice on how to quit.

Does mouthwash have any side effects?

Side effects may vary, depending on which formula you use. If you experience any irritating or adverse reactions to mouthwash, immediately stop using it and speak with your dentist. Most anti-cavity rinses contain sodium fluoride, which can lead to fluoride toxicity if taken excessively or swallowed. Because children tend to swallow mouthwash accidentally, they should not use anticavity formulas before age 6, and children older than age 6 should use them onlywith adult supervision.

Where can I get mouthwash?

Most mouthwashes are available over the counter. However, dentists can prescribe special formulas for patients with more severe oral problems, including cavities, periodontal disease, gum inflammation, and xerostomia (dry mouth). Talk to your general dentist to see what's right for you.

BURIAL RIGHTS & CREMAINS IN ST. JOSEPH CEMETERY..... PARISH OFFICE/ CEMETERY OFFICE LOCATED AT OUR LADY OF MERCY PARISH CENTER 19 SOUTH CANAL STREET

If you happen to have a grave plot in our cemetery, please call the office and provide us with the information as to whom you will be leaving the burial rights to after your passing. This needs to be followed up by a letter from the living owner so that we have the proper documentation; which will be kept on file in the office. Also, each single grave plot is allowed to have 3 cremains buried on top of a casket. That is why it is so important for the office to have the name of a successor who will be able to decide if cremains can be buried in a certain plot once the church agrees to the burial. Call the office for more information 860-747-6825

The D.R. Templeman Company Springs into Solar with Standard Solar Connecticut-based manufacturer installing 111kW PV system,

Connecticut-based manufacturer installing 111kW PV system, financing made possible through state ZREC program

-The D.R. Templeman Company (Templeman Co.), a family-owned manufacturer of springs and wire forms based in Plainville, CT, today announced it is installing a 360-panel, 111-kilowatt (kW) solar photovoltaic (PV) system on the rooftop of its manufacturing facility. The company selected Standard Solar, Inc., a leading solar energy company specializing in the development and financing of solar electric systems nationwide, to develop the project and install the system.

"Our decision to go solar directly reflects our company values by actively promoting sustainability through the efficient use of clean, renewable resources. Standard Solar has been extremely helpful throughout the design, application and financing processes and we are very grateful for their guidance and expertise."

The array, expected to produce 127,000 kilowatt-hours of power per year, will cover 100 percent of the manufacturing facility's energy needs and offset nearly 90 metric tons of carbon dioxide annually which is equal to the amount of CO2 emissions sequestered each year by a 70 acre U.S. forest.

"As a manufacturer with a 77 year history, we realize the importance of preserving the environment. We are committed to doing our part by controlling the usage of resources in our manufacturing processes," said Richard Williams, President, Templeman Co. "Our decision to go solar directly reflects our company values by actively promoting sustainability through the efficient use of clean, renewable resources. Standard Solar has been extremely helpful throughout the design, application and financing processes and we are very grateful for their guidance and expertise."

Founded in 1938, The D.R. Templeman Company is one of the region's leading spring manufacturers. It supplies springs and wire forms to a broad market that includes medical devices, electronics, inspection instruments, alternative energy devices, electromagnetic controls, appliances, hardware, locks, hand and power tools, consumer products, packaging, fire protection equipment, jewelry, motors, pumps, valves and more.

The project is being funded through an operating lease. This type of financing is designed to make the acquisition of solar affordable by combining tax efficiency with the Connecticut Zero Emissions Renewable Energy Credit Program (ZREC). The Connecticut ZREC program provides utility customers who generate their own power using zero emissions renewable processes, such as solar photovoltaics, with production based payments for 15 years, in addition to their avoided electric cost savings.

"The D.R. Templeman Company has a great history of commitment to its surrounding community and preserving the environment," said Scott Wiater, President, Standard Solar. "We celebrate their foresight in capturing the value of solar and putting their home state's ZREC program to work for them."

FROM "DEVIL TO DARLING"

By: Sally McAnn

This is the story of Bridget, a cuddly bundle of fur that I went to "look" at. Once seen I, of curse fell in love. (Who goes to "look" at a Golden Retriever puppy and leaves empty handed?) That was July 3, 2014. Finally on July 23rd I went to fill out the necessary papers and bring my little bundle of joy home, I named her Bridget. When I called to find out what time I could come and pick up Bridget, Jeannette Hinkson the breeder, said, "Bridget? Bridget? Oh! You mean, "Devil Dog."

Of course I didn't believe her. How could such a sweet creature end up being a "Devil Dog?" It didn't take me long to find out. While I made sure she knew she was loved and cared for she chewed on every available surface, including my forearms, which in a matter of days were covered in band aids. There were times when she nestled sweetly in my lap, and I thought we had passed a crisis, until I looked down to discover what I thought was "nestling" was in fact chewing off the bottom half of my sweat shirt.

As winter approached she was introduced to the fenced in back yard where I mistakenly assumed she was keeping herself amused. In the cold and the snow I left her pretty much on her own. Come spring I went out to discover her form of amusement was peeling off the vinyl siding from the back of the garage. This added to the kitchen flooring that she tore from under the molding, when I thought she was peacefully sleeping through the night, nearly did our loving relationship in. However, once the flooring and the vinyl on the back of the garage were replaced, she showed great intelligence i.e. she came when called, "stayed" on command, licked instead of chewing, took to water like the proverbial duck and on top of all that turned into a beauty that is a joy to behold.

I should have known better than to name her Bridget. I named her after my strong willed suffragette grandmother that ruled her family with an iron fist covered in a velvet glove. My Bridget is her most dangerous when she beguiles you with a sad demeanor, lulled into false security you are easy prey to some nefarious plan of hers. I laugh when people say, "How can you say such things about such a sweet dog?" I remember when I said that too. Needless to say my "Devil dog" has turned into my "Darling dog" and for all her "unique" talents; I wouldn't trade her for the world. Thank you, Jeannette!
